Dear Beckanda,
Greetings to you dear, dear, my love.
I've had a somewhat easy here because it seems no one has been notified of my coming. Of course it is also a holiday here for the Americans. Therefore I myself have not insisted on being saluted. On the other hand these guys are full of love. We made quite a bit of contact without their and you believe me it's much better.
I went to see the National Games last Friday night. I was quite interesting but long. Their dress or customs were wonderful. The women were of course native. As part of my duties I visited the Museum and many other places. One has the largest Viking Burial I've ever seen. I've visited many market places. There are most interesting. The floating markets, a boat ride up the 1 1/2 long and inlets. I took 30 pictures in 10 minutes and just had to make up my mind no more. Every thing is so fascinating.

As you noticed I've moved from the Eggen. It's a beautiful hotel with everything you could possibly want in a Modern Hotel.
It was 13 per day. This one is 10.

London is terribly expensive. I'm trying to pinch these dollars to get you this time.
It cost 75. But a real beauty. I'm getting a couple pieces of they sell me for a dollar or far a dollar. I hope I've gotten enough - Will write again later dear I go to get to the University - John
