Dear Mr. Lippmann,

It was more than kind of you to let me know that you met John in Moscow. I was very happy to hear that he was getting along alright; John is a very wonderful human being and we were very pleased that he could represent the United States in Russia; I tried so hard to get him off in fine style that I kept his warm winter suit hanging in the closet, to prevent unnecessary dressing, with the result that his valise was sent off without the all important suit; when you saw John he must have been wearing a thin, navy blue summer suit, which will be just fine apparel for him in Cambodia this Christmas.

Many thanks again and best wishes to you and your family for the holiday season and for the new year 1959.

Sincerely

RR
