She stands on a table in our front ~~table~~ hall right next to a water colour painting by John Marin. She has made quite a hit with our friends and our children have adopted her.

There is another piece of your sculpture at the Sanderberg Gallery, called the Family, which I am going to get when the gallery reopens in September.

Please let us know when the dancer is ready, the one we saw in was at your studio. I don't know how to express how thrilled we were to know you and your work. We get to New York at least once a year and hope to see you when we come.

Thanks again
