Dear Mr. Park:

I received your letter dated March thirtieth with such pleasure.

I would like very much to make the sculpture for the pool.

I am enclosing some photographs of my work, and I have the thought in mind that the sculpture should be non-representational to further carry out the contemporary feeling of the library and possibly ten feet in height. It would be very helpful to me if you could send on to me either photographs or sketches of the new library. My own thought at this point is that of using highly polished bronze in such a way that the water itself in movement will follow out the sculpture forms; any idea you have on the subject I would be very glad to hear about.
