 Brooklyn Heights, New York

Dear John:

It would be hard to thank you and Mrs. Rhoden properly for yesterday's fascinating and most pleasant luncheon.

As mentioned yesterday, I would be glad indeed to get in touch with your friend who is experimenting with durable forms of plastic for sculpture of a sort which might be appropriate and exciting in some of our garden lots.

I'm absolutely convinced that eventually sculpture will play an essential part in the kind of vest pocket parks which different groups are now developing around the City. Should you think of other sculptors and/or backers who would be interested in this kind of project, I would be enormously grateful for an opportunity to talk with them.

Finally let me add that I hope our paths will cross again soon.

Faithfully,
