THE FOUNDATION OF THE ACADEMY

The Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts is the oldest art institution in the United States and actually dates its existence from 1791, when Charles Willson Peale commenced his efforts to organize in Philadelphia a school for the fine arts. It was formally founded in 1805, and chartered in 1806. Mr. Peale's first efforts resulted in the formation in 1794 of the Columbianum, and in 1795 under the auspices of that Association there was held in Pennsylvania's old State House, now known as Independence Hall, the first exhibition of paintings in Philadelphia. The Columbianum was ultimately succeeded by the present Academy.

In 1805, in Independence Hall, where twenty-nine years earlier the forefathers had signed the Declaration of Independence, seventyone public spirited citizens, of whom forty-one were lawyers, met for formal organization. They prepared a Petition for the incorporation of the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts. The gathering was a distinguished one, and included George Clymer, a signer of the Declaration of Independence; Joseph Hopkinson, the author of "Hail Columbia"; William Tilghman, President of the Court of Common Pleas, and afterwards, Chief Justice of Pennsylvania; Charles Willson Peale, William Rush and Rembrandt Peale, artists; Alexander J. Dallas, District Attorney of the United States; Joseph B. McKean, Attorney General of the Commonwealth; William Lewis, William Meredith, William Rawle, Horace Binney, Simon Gratz, John Reynell Coates, Richard Rush, Charles Biddle, John Redman Coxe and Edward Penington. The object of the association, quaintly and vigorously expressed in the language of the day, was:

"To promote the cultivation of the Fine Arts, in the United States of America, by introducing correct and elegant copies from works of the first Masters in Sculpture and Painting, and by thus facilitating the access to such Standards, and also by occasionally conferring moderate but honourable premiums, and otherwise assisting the Studies and exciting the efforts of the Artists gradually to unfold, enlighten, and invigorate the talents of our Countrymen."

THE PENNSYLVANIA ACADEMY OF THE FINE ARTS

The Pennsylvania Academy conducts the oldest schools in America devoted exclusively to the cultivation of the Fine Arts.

The Academy also conducts at Chester Springs, Chester Co., Pennsylvania, what is believed to be the best equipped Open-air Summer School in this country, For details see page 89.

During the one hundred and twenty-two years of the Academy's existence it has aided in the training of many men and women whose names are illustrious on the pages of American Art. Among its former students are eminent painters—figure, landscape, and marine—mural decorators, illustrators, and sculptors of national reputation. Its history is in no small measure the history of American Art itself.

The schools are under the immediate care of a Curator and Committee on Instruction appointed by the President and Board of Directors, together with a Faculty composed of representative artists of the day, who are experienced teachers and eminently qualified to discover and develop every talent which students may possess.

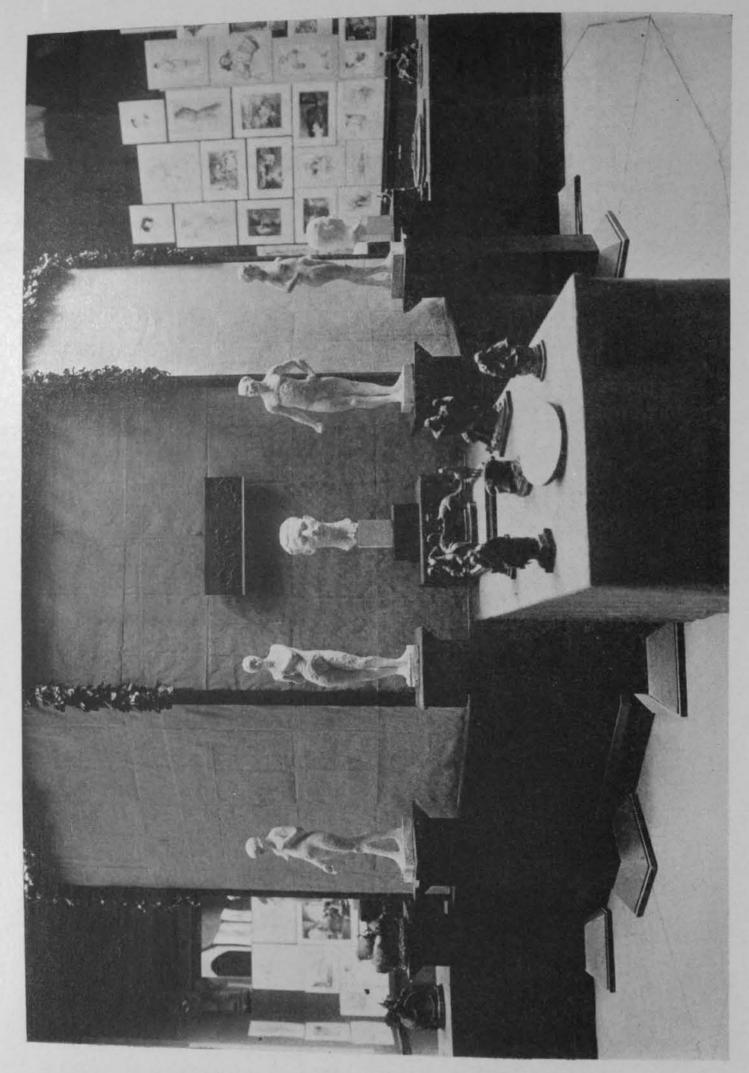

The Academy is equipped in every way to teach the technique of Painting and Sculpture, and engages its students at once and exclusively in the study of the Fine Arts. Its aim is to equip them with a thorough knowledge of Drawing, Color, Composition, Modelling, Construction and Perspective.

Lectures of general and special interest are given during the year, and visits are made to private collections, museums, etc., which students may attend without extra charge. During the past year Philip L. Hale delivered a series of Lectures on "Difficult Moments in Painting"; "Beginning Life as an Artist"; "The Graphic Arts"; and "The Lost Arts".

The Academy's Permanent Collection of paintings and sculpture affords an opportunity for the study of examples of famous masters and includes the Gallery of National Portraiture by Early American

Painters; the Temple Collection of Modern American Paintings; and the Gibson Collection, largely composed of works of the Continental schools.

Copying in the galleries is permitted to students under reasonable regulations.

The Annual Exhibitions held by the Academy bring together the best examples of current American painting and sculpture, and enable students to follow intelligently the various movements of modern art, and to study the technical methods by which the art of today is achieving its results. These exhibitions have been recognized for many years as being the foremost in America. During the past year they included:

An Exhibition of Water Colors composed of 954 examples, representing 244 different artists;

An Exhibition of Modern Miniatures composed of 144 examples, representing 72 different artists;

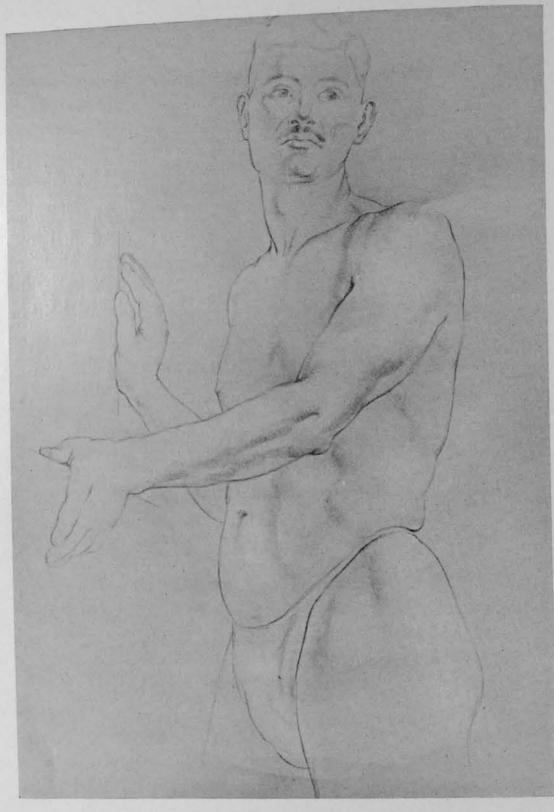

An Exhibition of Work done by students at the Chester Springs School, consisting of 79 paintings, 9 etchings and 48 sculptures, representing 54 different artists;

The Academy's 122nd Annual Exhibition of Oil Paintings and Sculpture, composed of 396 paintings and 120 sculptures, representing a total of 355 artists. This Exhibition was opened to public view for seven weeks and was visited by 30,954 people.

Special Exhibition: November 7, 1926 to December 12, 1926. A Loan Exhibition of Old Miniatures composed of 283 Examples.

SOME ADVANTAGES OF LOCATION

The Academy building is located in the heart of Philadelphia, within one square of City Hall and within two or three blocks of the central city railroad stations. The new Parkway brings it within easy reach of Fairmount Park and 3000 acres of beautiful scenery. While it is convenient to the business portion of the city, it is also readily accessible to the residential districts. Philadelphia is often called "The City of Homes," and of all the greater American cities it is probably the most worthy of the name. Apartments and studios can be obtained by the year or by the month for reasonable rates. The cost of living is comparatively low.

Harry N. Grunsten
DRAWING (PAINTER'S CLASS) 1927

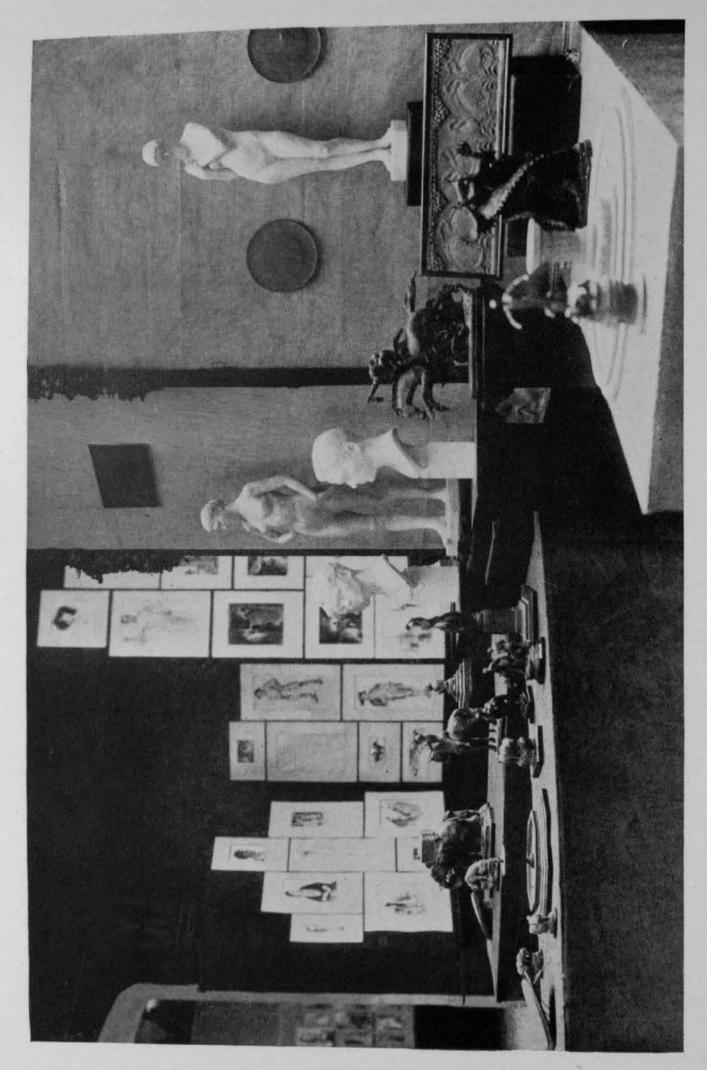

The beautiful Central Library on the Parkway is within walking distance of the Academy and affords the students excellent opportunities for general reading and for research in art.

The city contains, in addition to the Academy's own gallery, a number of notable collections of paintings, which are accessible to students. Among the more important may be mentioned: The Wilstach Collection in Fairmount Park; The Lankenau Collection at the Drexel Institute; The John G. Johnson Collection; the important paintings at the Historical Society of Pennsylvania, and at Independence Hall. The Private Collection of Joseph E. Widener (admission by appointment only).

To students attending the Academy, the Reference Library and the Galleries are free during the time of their attendance.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION

Photographs of work or specimens of modelling of sufficient merit are required for admission to the life modelling classes.

Students not sufficiently advanced for admission to the Life Class are required to model from casts. When they have acquired sufficient proficiency, they are admitted to the Life Class without the payment of an additional fee.

Both Painters and Illustrators would manifestly profit by the added appreciation of form and proportion gained by working in the Sculpture Classes.

ILLUSTRATION

The Class in Illustration is under the direction of Mr. Harding. Its purpose is to provide the student with such practical instruction in Drawing, Composition and Interpretation as will enable him to enter the professional field of magazine and book illustrating.

The Class in Illustration will meet daily throughout the school year.

Life models are engaged for the morning classes under Mr. Pearson. Costume models are engaged for the afternoon classes under Mr. Harding and individual criticism is given once a week.

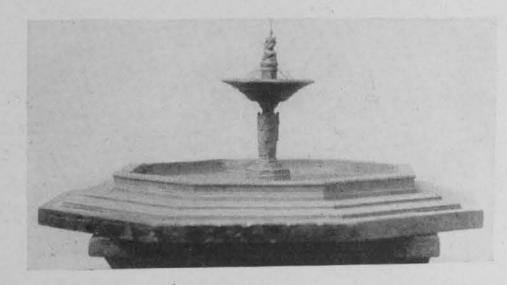

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION

A student may apply for promotion to the Illustration Class by submitting to the Faculty at a stated monthly meeting, a group of drawings and paintings, each one of which has received the approval of the Instructor of the class in which the work was made.

The group must consist of at least; one drawing from the full figure Antique, one painting from the Still Life Class, one painting from the Saturday Morning Sketch Class, one drawing from the Construction Class and one Composition in black and white or in color. If the Faculty finds the group of insufficient merit to warrant promotion the student may prepare another group for submission to the Faculty at any subsequent meeting.

SCHOLARSHIPS AND PRIZES

Through the generosity of Mrs. Alexander Hamilton Rice, twenty Scholarships in the Academy have been provided, entitling the holders thereof to free tuition. Ten of them are in memory of William L. Elkins, and ten in memory of George D. Widener.

Florence McCurdy
COSTUMED MODEL PAINTING (ILLUSTRATION) 1927

Under the will of Mary R. Burton, deceased, a free scholar-ship is provided, and through the generosity of Mrs. George K. Johnson, the Sarah Kaighn Cooper Free Scholarship has been established. A Scholarship has also been established in memory of Elizabeth H. Thomas.

The above Free Scholarships are available this year for returning students only, and are awarded solely for the purpose of financially assisting those who would otherwise be unable to pursue the study of art.

Returning students are those who have been registered in the Academy's Philadelphia schools for both terms of the school year [60] immediately preceding the application for a Free Scholarship and who have fulfilled all class requirements during that year or, those students who have been registered at the Academy's Summer School for the two consecutive seasons of four months each immediately preceding the application, and have there fulfilled certain requirements.

These Scholarships are awarded by the Board of Directors upon the recommendation of the Committee on Instruction and the Faculty of the Schools.

GENERAL GROUP OF MURAL DECORATIONS, 1927

Applicants must fill in a prepared form and submit it together with not more than four examples of their work to the Curator of the Schools before September 24th. This application must be accompanied by a letter addressed to the Committee on Instruction, stating in detail the necessity for requesting Free Tuition.

THE WILLIAM EMLEN CRESSON MEMORIAL TRAVELLING SCHOLARSHIPS

Dorothy L. Van Loan

GROUP IN COMPETITION FOR FIRST CRESSON AWARD

(PAINTING) 1927

By the liberal provisions of the wills of Emlen Cresson and Priscilla P., his wife, a Fund has been created as a memorial to their deceased son, William Emlen Cresson, Academician, the income of which is to be applied by The Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts in sending pupils of merit to Europe.

During the past year the Academy awarded eighteen Cresson Scholarships. Included in this number were ten painters, three [62] sculptors and five illustrators. These awards were made by the Board of Directors upon the recommendation of the Faculty.

The awards are divided among the Painting, Illustration and Sculpture Classes, and are based upon the standard of the work, as one factor, and the number of contestants from each Class as another factor.

The award of a scholarship provides each student with one thousand dollars to expend in actual travel and travelling expenses. The remaining one hundred and fifty dollars of the award covers tuition for the ensuing school season.

It is the intention of the Cresson Scholarships to give to the students of the Academy the advantage of seeing some of the important Galleries and Art Schools abroad. The trip abroad is limited to the summer vacation, a period of four months, from June to October, so that students can return to the Academy for study during the ensuing school year. The Board of Directors, upon the recommendation of the Committee on Instruction, may, in case of exceptional merit, permit a student to receive a second Cresson Scholarship. Unless some satisfactory excuse be accepted by the Committee on Instruction, a second scholarship must be competed for during the year succeeding the first award.

The award of a Travelling Scholarship is not to be regarded as a certificate of proficiency. Students receiving an award for the first time are required to return to the Academy for further study after having travelled abroad in accordance with the terms of the award.

Students receiving a second award are expected to return to the Academy for further study during the school year next succeeding the award.

New students registering during the season of 1921–1922 and thereafter will not become eligible to compete for a Cresson Travelling Scholarship until they have completed twenty-four months, or six terms, (not necessarily consecutive) of study in the Academy's Schools.

Students who have been registered previous to the school year of 1921–1922 will be eligible to compete for a Cresson Travelling Scholarship after sixteen months of study in the Academy's Schools.

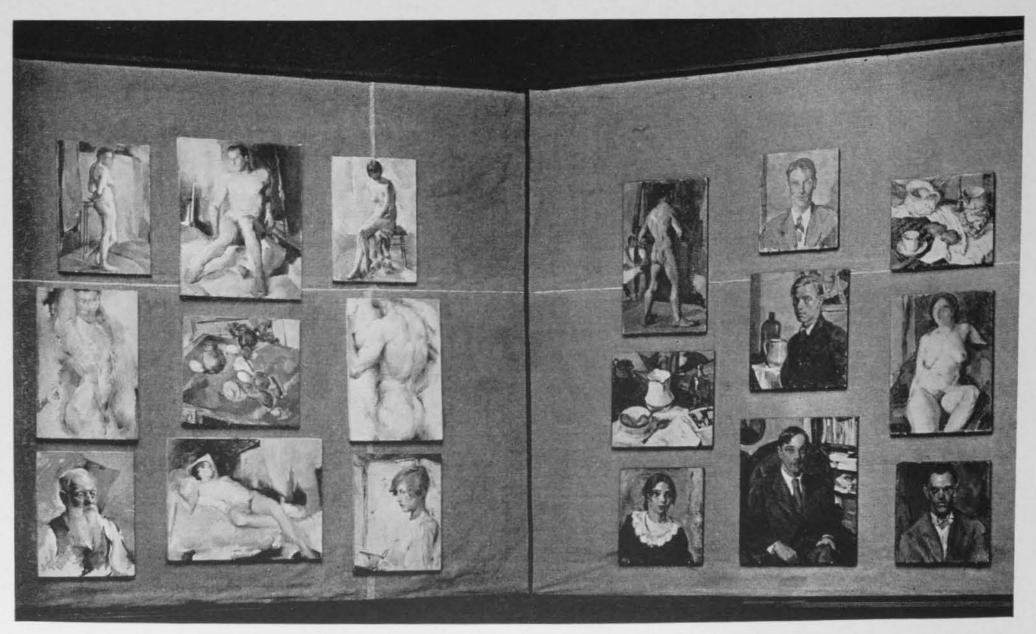

In estimating the total number of months necessary to qualify competitors, time registered in the Chester Springs Summer School is counted provided certain requirements have been fulfilled equivalent to a similar length of time in the Philadelphia Schools.

All students in competition for Cresson Travelling Scholarships must be registered in the Philadelphia School for both terms of their Competition Year. During Competition year no change in registration is permitted.

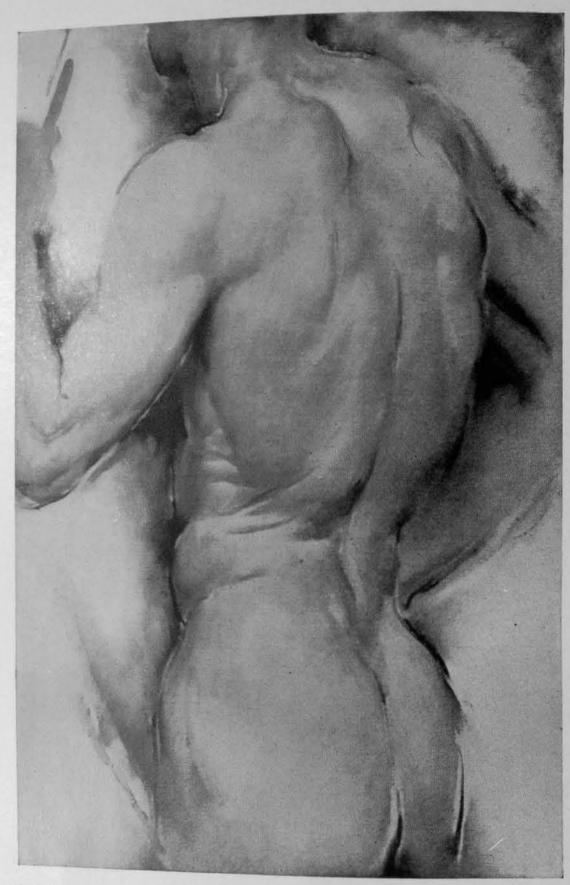

Every student awarded a Cresson Travelling Scholarship must sail for Europe before June 15th of the year of Award. Otherwise the scholarship is revoked.

Students failing to submit the required work for review place themselves out of competition and can be reinstated only by action of the Faculty.

All competitors are unrestricted as to the amount and variety of work they exhibit in their Competition Groups, provided they do [68] not exceed the space allotted to them, but each painter's group must include a landscape. No work will be considered eligible which has not been made during the current school season and registered in the Curator's office for one of the specified reviews.

Competitors in the Life and Head Painting classes must attend the Class in Composition, and must do the work required in the Construction and the Perspective Classes. Competitors in Illustration and Sculpture must do the work required in the Construction and Perspective Classes.

THE CHARLES TOPPAN PRIZES

The Charles Toppan prizes for 1928 are: first prize, $300, second prize, $200, and two honorable mentions of $100 each.

These prizes were established in 1881 by the gift of Mrs. Charles Toppan, Miss Harriette R. Toppan, and Mr. Robert N. Toppan.

The prizes are awarded only to students who have previously received and used a Cresson Scholarship. Competitors who fulfill all of the requirements for a second Cresson Travelling Scholarship will, at the same time be considered eligible to compete for a Toppan Prize. Competitors who are not in Competition for a Second Cresson Travelling Scholarship are required to submit each month during the year of competition two life drawings from models posing in the Academy, or two full-figure Antique drawings made in the Academy.

Any student having received one Toppan prize is debarred from receiving another Toppan prize of the same or lower value.

The work submitted in competition must be an original painting, in oil, or water color, the unaided work of the student without criticism. All work in competition must be submitted without signature or mark of identification and must be presented on or before Saturday, May 12, 1928.

The subject assigned for May, 1928 is: "An Interior with one or more figures in which mere Portraiture is not the leading motive." No student may submit more than one canvas. Canvases submitted must not measure less than twelve inches nor more than thirty-six inches in either dimension, and must not be framed or presented under glass.

Canvases are numbered by the Curator, and a memorandum of the numbers and competitors' names are kept in a sealed envelope which is opened after the prize-winning canvases have been selected by the Committee on Instruction.

According to the positively expressed terms of the gift, the drawing of the work submitted will receive first consideration.

The Committee on awards is not obliged to award prizes or honorable mentions if, in its opinion, the work submitted is not of sufficient merit to justify making the awards.

THE THOURON PRIZE

The following awards, founded by the late Henry J. Thouron, a former Instructor in Composition, are made as follows:

A prize of $50 for a group of not less than three compositions upon subjects given to the class during the current season, and a prize of $25 for a second similar group, the first to be decided by the Faculty, the second by a vote of the students then working in the

[70]

Schools; and one of $50 and one of $25, the first for general progress in study, the second for the work showing, in its treatment of said subjects, the most poetic, or abstract, or idealistic, point of view, both to be decided by the instructor of the class.

A competitor is not eligible a second time for the same prize, and cannot receive more than one award the same season.

Marina Timoshenko PORTRAIT STUDY (PAINTING) 1927

In the event of not making the annual awards, or any portion of them, the money is to accumulate until it shall amount to the sum of $500. This sum will be awarded by the Faculty to the student submitting the best work in Composition upon a given subject.

The intention of the award is to give the successful student a three-months' summer trip abroad, for the purpose of special study of Composition in specified places and galleries.

STEWARDSON PRIZE (SCULPTURE) 1927

THE STEWARDSON PRIZE

The Edmund Stewardson Prize of One Hundred Dollars, in the Department of Sculpture, will be awarded for the twenty-eighth time at the close of the school year.

This is an annual prize, competed for by present students of the Academy with such pupils of other art schools as may be approved by the Committee on Instruction. Having once received this award, a student becomes ineligible for further competition.

The subject for the competition is a full-length figure from Life in the round.

Studies must not be less than two feet six inches in height, and not more than three feet in height, and must be made within eighteen hours, during three consecutive days, in six sessions of three hours each.

None except the competitors are admitted to the competition room at any time during the days of the competition, and none except the members of the Jury are present during the judging of the studies.

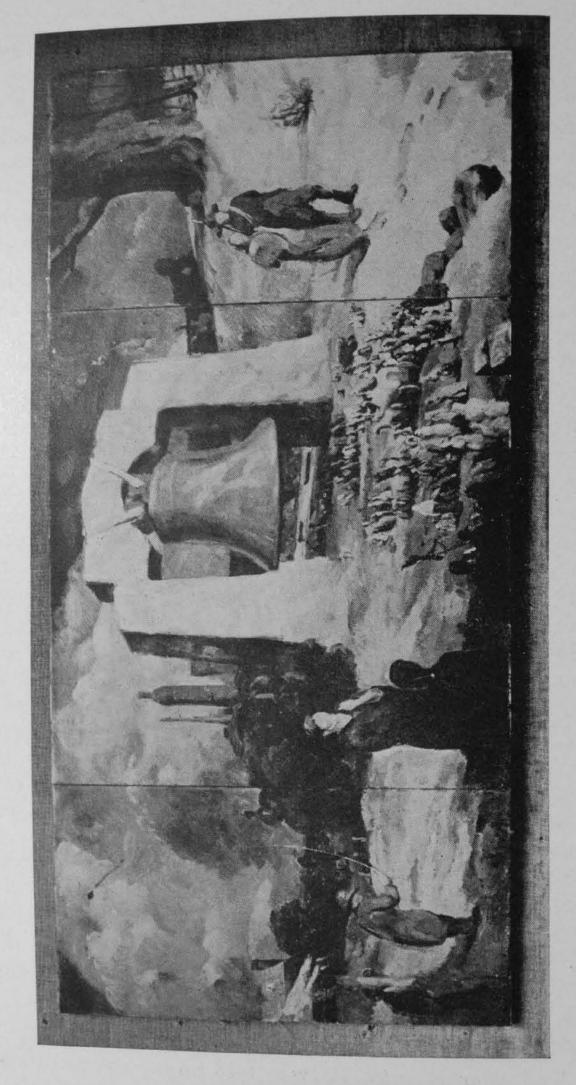

Each competitor draws a number by lot. This number determines the competitor's position in the competition room and a corresponding number is placed upon an envelope which contains the competitor's name and is deposited sealed, with the Secretary of the Academy. Upon completion of the work the competitor places a corresponding number upon the study to be submitted to the Jury of Award.

The Jury of Award consists of three professional sculptors, having no official connection with the Academy, or any other schools whose pupils may have taken part in the competition. When the successful number has been announced by the chairman of the Jury, the Secretary, in the presence of one or more of the officials of the Academy, opens the envelope bearing that number and announces the name of the successful competitor. If no study be satisfactory to the Jury, the prize may, in their discretion, be withheld. When no award is made, the amount of the prize may, in the discretion of the Board of Directors of the Academy, be added to the principal of the prize fund, or distributed with future prizes.

The clay models offered in competition must be kept standing in good condition until otherwise ordered and figures cast by the Academy become its property.

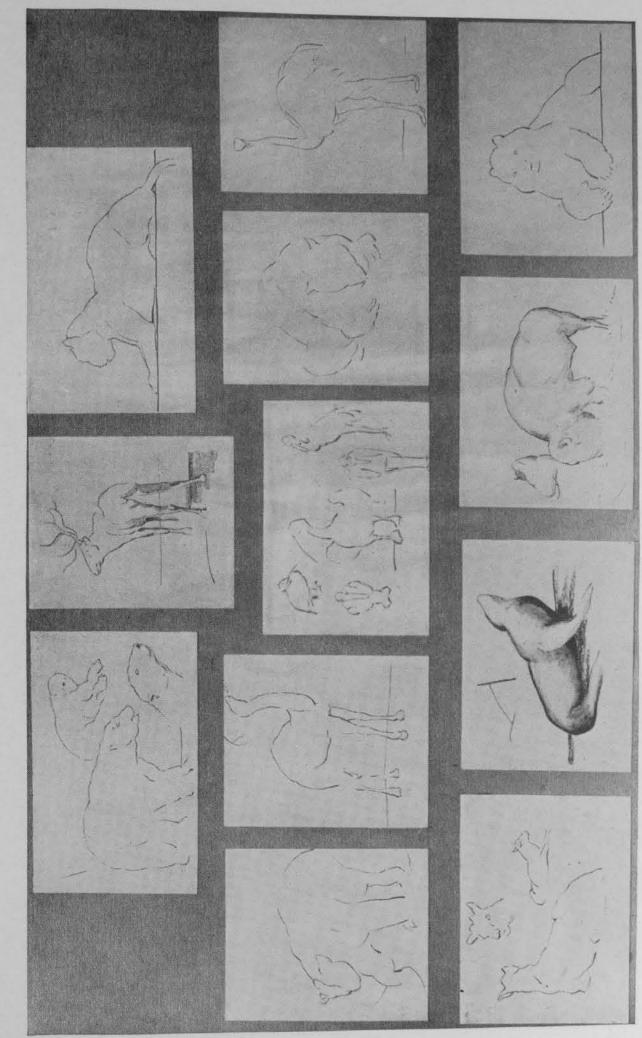

The competition for the year 1928 takes place on March 5, 6, and 7.

The contest is open to students who have been registered for three terms and who are members of the Life Modelling Classes, but is not open to former students who work in the class by special permission. Time spent at work in the Sculpture Classes at the Chester Springs Summer School, not exceeding four months, will be counted.

The work must be submitted anonymously to a jury appointed by the Committee on Instruction of the Board of Directors. The jury must not include any instructor in the School.

The contest for the year 1928 takes place during the month of January from the 3rd to 27th inclusive.

THE PACKARD PRIZES

From the income of the John H. Packard Fund, established by the children of the late John H. Packard, M.D., for many years chairman of the Academy's Committee on Instruction, annual prizes of $30 and $20 are awarded for the best and second best groups of original studies made from living animals. These prizes are open to all students of the Academy who have registered for both terms of the school year. A student having once received a prize becomes ineligible to receive the same prize a second time.

THE RAMBORGER PRIZE

From the income of a fund established by the late William K. Ramborger, Esq., as a memorial to his sister, Aspasia Eckert Ramborger, who for some years was a student of the Academy, an annual prize of $25 is awarded for the best line drawing in black and white of a head from life by a pupil of the Academy who has not been under instruction over two years, but who has been registered in the Academy for both terms of the current school year. Each competitor may submit one unmounted drawing. Having once received an award, a student becomes thereafter ineligible to compete again.

THE CHARLES M. LEA PRIZES

The Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts holds a Special Exhibition of Drawings by Students of American Art Schools in November, 1927.

A first prize of two hundred dollars, a second prize of one hundred and fifty dollars and a third prize of one hundred dollars are awarded respectively to the best, the second best and the third best drawings.

Any student having received one Lea prize is debarred from receiving another Lea prize of the same or lower value.

Drawings eligible for competition must be executed by students regularly enrolled before November 1st, 1927 in any American School of Art which has a faculty of at least two instructors.

A competitor may not submit more than two drawings.

The drawings must be upon white paper eighteen by twenty-four inches in size unmounted and unframed.

The subject must deal with the human figure, (not the head only) either singly or in composition, and be executed in black and white by pen, pencil, or hard crayon, but not in chalk or charcoal. The awards are based upon the precision, accuracy of delineation, proportions, detail, simplicity, and picture quality of the drawings submitted.

Members of the Jury of the Academy's Water Color Exhibition make the awards. They may withhold any or all prizes if in their judgment the drawings are not of sufficient merit.

THE ACADEMY'S FREE-HAND DRAWING PRIZES FOR THE HIGHER SCHOOLS OF PHILADELPHIA AND VICINITY

The Directors of The Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts have established a system of prize awards for original Free-hand Drawing by students of the higher schools of the city of Philadelphia and immediate vicinity. The purpose of making these awards is to stimulate interest in Free-hand Drawing, to discover those who possess marked talent, and to offer them the advantages of study at the Academy.

A first prize of $10 and a second prize of $5 are awarded by the Academy upon the recommendation of the instructor of the school where made, for the best and second best drawings by regularly enrolled students of each school.

The drawings must be made free-hand from a cast or other object assigned by the instructor and must be the unaided work of the student, without criticism.

The drawings must be made with lead pencil, charcoal or crayon on white paper 19 inches by 25 inches in size and unmounted.

The drawings may be made at any time during the months of March and April, but must be submitted to the instructor of the school where made, and the prizes announced before the thirtieth of April, 1928.

The two prize drawings from each school must be sent to the Secretary of The Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts, Broad and Cherry Streets, Philadelphia, not later than May 16th, 1928. The Faculty of the Academy will then judge the drawings submitted, and award the final prizes as follows.

$25 for the best drawing; $15 for the second; and $10 for the third.

All entries must have the following information legibly written on the back: name of the competitor; name of the school in whch the student is working, and the signature of the Principal of the school. Drawings will be returned to the schools from which received.

It is hoped that these awards, and the stimulus they afford, will lead to a closer sympathy between the art instruction in the city's higher schools and the work of the Academy itself.

SCHOOL SUMMER SPRINGS CHESTER BUILDING: WASHINGTON

THE ACADEMY'S SUMMER SCHOOL AT CHESTER SPRINGS

The Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts owns a tract of 40 acres at Chester Springs, Chester County, Pennsylvania, where it conducts an open air school for instruction in the Fine Arts.

Chester Springs is seven and one-half miles northwest of Phœnix-ville on the Pickering Valley Railroad, and about forty miles northwest of Philadelphia and is reached in about one hour and thirty minutes by train service from the Reading Terminal in Philadelphia. It is a beautiful little village, with postoffice, schools, stores and churches. The population is purely native American.

The Academy's property is one-quarter of a mile from the station. It is about 300 feet above mean ocean tide level and is north of the village, surrounded by typical Pennsylvania farm land, the scenery of which is enriched by gently rolling hills and by Pickering Creek with its meadows and valleys. It is at the foot of a hill rising to the north over 500 feet, and includes a number of buildings upon the hillside, affording ample studio room, and separate dormitories for men and women. Electric light is supplied from Phœnixville.

THE BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS

The men's building, known as the Washington Building, is a large three-story stone structure, 146 feet long, with airy dormitories on the second and third floors, private rooms for those who want them, and contains on the first floor, the main kitchen and general dining-room.

The women's building, known as the Lincoln Building, is also three stories in height, is 88 feet long, with similar airy dormitories on the second and third floors, also with private rooms. It contains on the first floor a library and reading room used by all of the students. It is about 60 feet to the eastward of the Washington Building. Both are near the public road.

Across the road from the Lincoln Building, and slightly to the east of it, stands the New Studio, a substantial stone building, the dimensions of which are 42 by 37 feet. One large studio occupies the whole upper floor. It is lighted by a north sky-light, and contains a large stone fire-place for use on cool or rainy days in spring or fall. A balcony opening on the south side affords an extended view of the meadow through which runs the Pickering Creek.

In the basement of this building is another room, which also contains a large stone fire-place.

In the meadow below the New Studio Building are tennis courts and near these are the croquet grounds.

About 130 feet back of these two dormitory buildings, and up the side of the hill, is the main Studio Building, 78 by 49 feet, which has upon the first floor a theatre or lecture room with dressing rooms for men and women, and upon the second floor one large studio used by the students in common, and several smaller ones, affording together ample space for all the students to work indoors in wet weather.

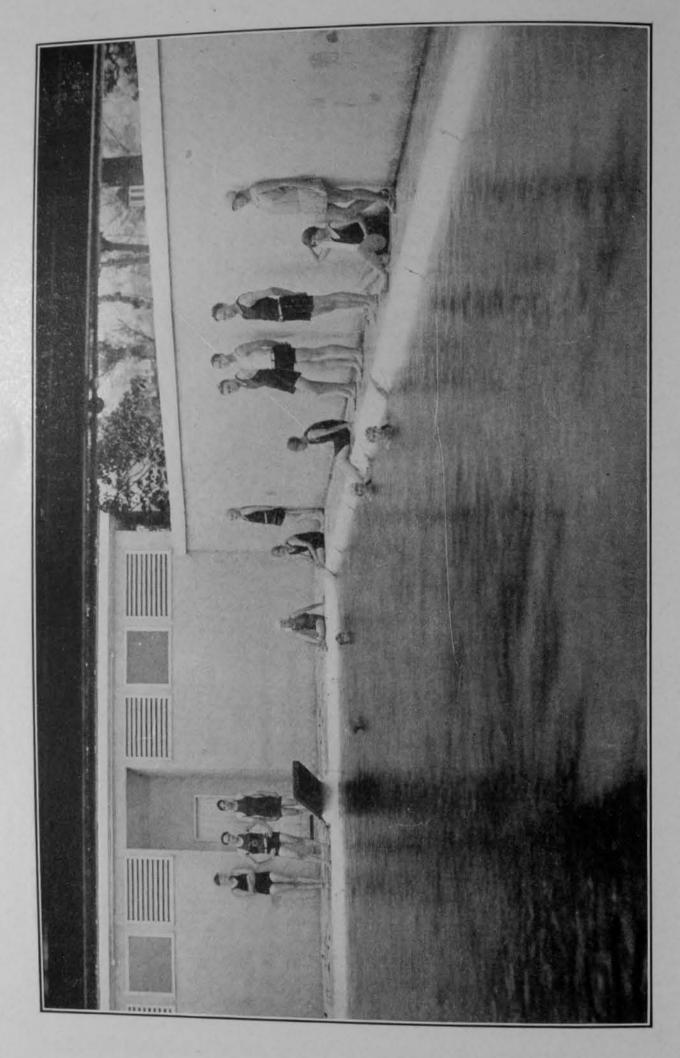

The old Kimberton Road, upon which the dormitories face joins in front of the property, with the White Horse Road leading down to the village. From the dormitory buildings there is a long covered walk up the hillside to the Studio, so that students are protected during wet weather. Further west on the Kimberton Road, about 160 feet, is the Bungalow, affording additional dormitory accommodations.

On the opposite side of the Kimberton Road, at its junction with the White Horse Road, is the Faculty Building, a double stone residence, used to accommodate resident teachers, and conveniently near the main dormitories. Directly across the Kimberton Road, is a large and quaint one-story frame building called the Art Gallery, used by the students to exhibit their work and in which are accommodations for the washing of palettes and brushes, for the making of frames, and like purposes.

In the meadow below the Faculty Building is the New Bath House and Swimming Pool. It is of concrete construction and enclosed by a wall eight feet high. The dimensions of the building are 125 feet by 30½ feet. At the west end there are dressing rooms for the men; while at the east end there are dressing rooms for the women. All the dressing rooms are provided with clothes hooks, benches, mirrors, and shelves to hold the toilet articles.

The Pool itself is 87 feet long by 21 feet wide. At its deepest end under the diving board, it is 7 feet deep; while at the shallow end it is 4 feet, 3 inches deep for the use of those who do not swim. The Pool is fed by the waters of the Pickering Creek, the level of which has been raised above the pool by a dam. The sheet of water formed by the dam is a picturesque addition to the landscape. The out-of-door portrait class sometimes poses a model in a boat on the dam. The dam is 125 feet wide and about 400 feet long, and over the breast the water of the creek falls upon a series of steps.

In the centre of the meadow below the Washington Building, is the famous Yellow Spring. Its waters are so heavily charged with iron that they color the stones of the run leading from the spring. It gave the locality the ancient name of the "Yellow Springs."

The drinking water for all of the buildings descends by gravity from a spring rising near the top of the hill, the water being conducted by a piping system into concrete reservoirs, which can be augmented by an auxiliary system, permitting water to be pumped to the reservoirs from another spring, known as the Diamond Spring, situated in the meadow far from the buildings, and the water of which is of singular clearness and purity.

The countryside is remarkably paintable, with many attractive old dwellings, quaint barns and spring houses, with old trees, abundant woodland, creeks and ponds, and with beautiful views near at hand. Directly in front of the Washington Building is a grove of sycamores of great age, and back of it is one of the largest sycamores in Pennsylvania, possessing a mighty spread of limb and containing in one of its large arms the iron prongs, now almost covered with bark, which were used in the olden days to support the bell which called the guests to dinner, when the Washington Building was an inn.

The chief object of the Academy in establishing a school in the country is to supplement the work done during the Winter in its Philadelphia schools by instruction in painting and sculpture in the open air, and to afford an opportunity for the study of art to school teachers and to others who cannot spare time for study except during the vacation months.

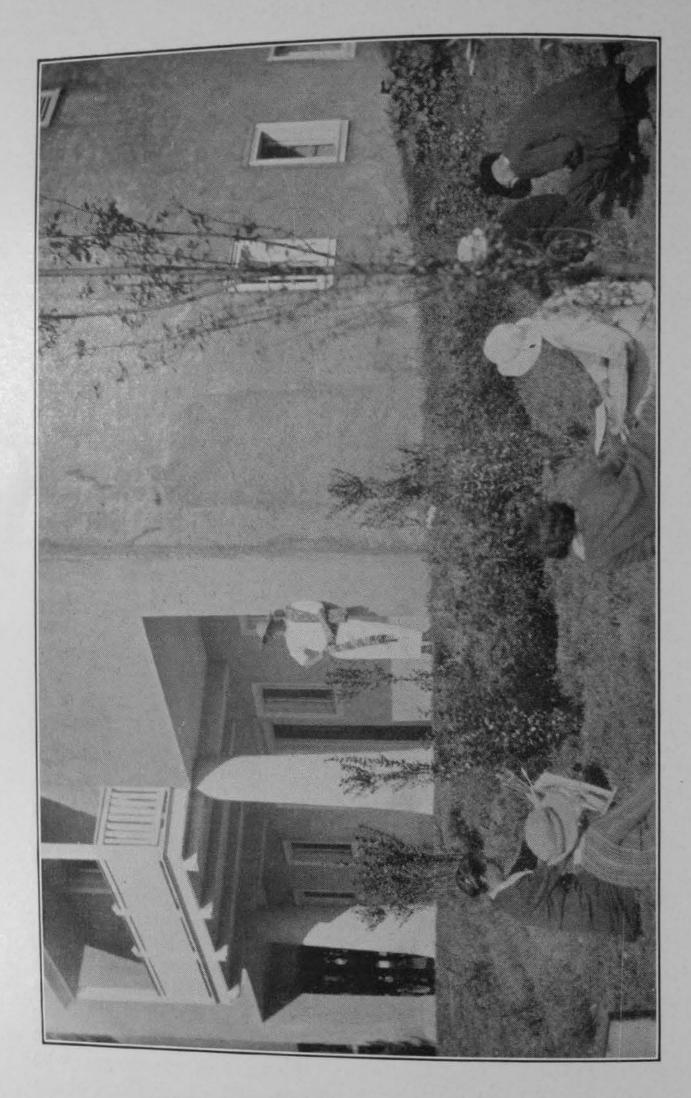

The methods of instruction are substantially the same as those used at the Academy in Philadelphia, special attention, however, being paid to landscape drawing and painting, to figure painting in the open air, and to the study of sunlight and shade. Students are taught to make "studies" of nature rather than "sketches" and are also taught to carry on their work as far as their abilities permit.

The general method of instruction is by individual criticism of work submitted. The instructors will, from time to time, work with the students for the purpose of assisting them in the selection and interpretation of their subjects.

CRESSON TRAVELLING SCHOLARSHIPS

To compete for Cresson Travelling Scholarships students must be registered for six terms in the Academy's Schools. In estimating this period, time registered in the Chester Springs Summer School is counted equivalent to a similar length of time in the Philadelphia Schools, but no student will be eligible to compete who is not registered in the Philadelphia Schools for both terms of the competition year.

PRIZES

A Prize of $100 is awarded for the best drawing or painting done at the Chester Springs School by a regularly enrolled student of the Academy, or by a student of the Chester Springs School who shall have studied there for not less than one month; a second prize of $50 for the second best, and a third prize of $25 for the third best. These prizes are awarded about December 6th. Work done by arrived artists, who may be working at the School, is not eligible.

CRITICISMS

Criticisms in the Drawing and Painting classes are given from time to time by different members of the Faculty: by Joseph T. Pearson, Jr., in April, May, June, July, August and September; by Daniel Garber in June, July, August and September; and in Illustration, by George Harding in June, July, August and September.

Mr. Garber conducts a class in etching.

Criticisms in the Sculpture classes are given by Albert Laessle in June, July, August and September.

SPECIAL LECTURES

During the summer of 1927 Special Lectures will be given by persons eminent in art.

ENROLLMENT

During the Summer of the School's tenth year, which began in April, 1926, there was a total enrollment of 196 students. 79 had never studied at the Academy in Philadelphia, and 13 of them afterward became students in the City.

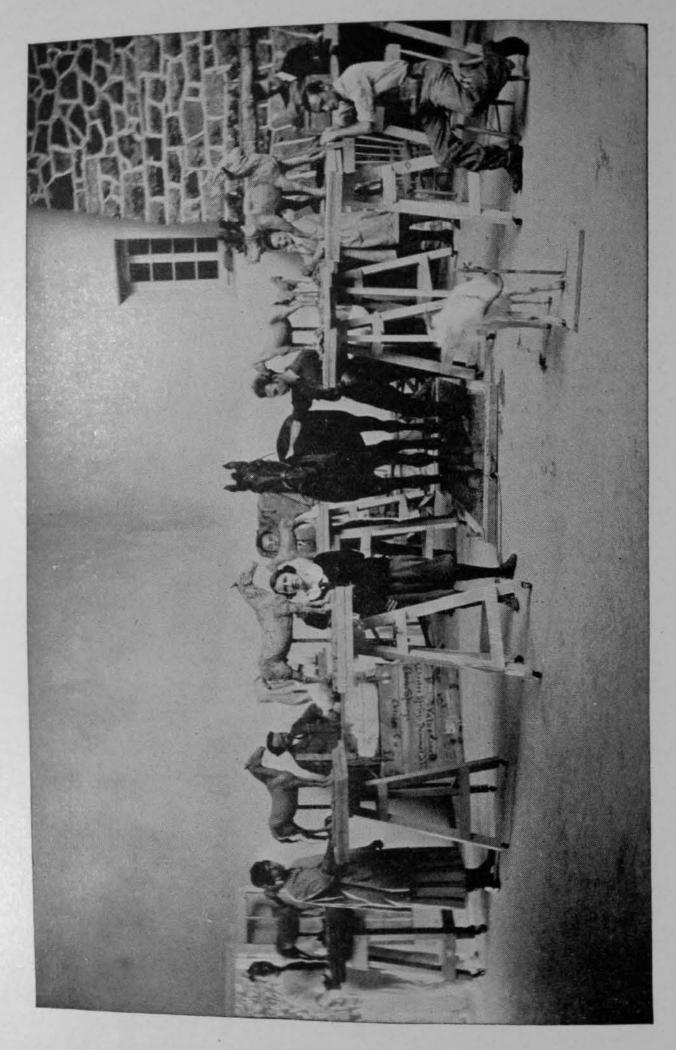

The students came not only from Pennsylvania, but also from distant points: Arkansas, two; California, one; Canada, one; Colorado, one; District of Columbia, eight; Georgia, two; Illinois, three; Indiana, two; Iowa, one; Idaho, one; Massachusetts, three; Minnesota, one; Missouri, four; Maryland, five; Michigan, one; New York, twenty-eight; New Jersey, eight; North Carolina, three; Ohio, ten; Oklahoma, two; South Carolina, two; South Dakota, one; Texas, six; Virginia, eight; West Virginia, one; Wisconsin, three; China, one; Russia, two.

RATES

The intention of the Academy is to accept serious students only.

The rates are as low as possible, since they include both board and tuition. But these rates do not include the expense of clothing-laundry, and materials for drawing, painting, and sculpture. The latter may be purchased at the school store.

[95]

The rates, payable one week in advance, for board and lodging including tuition, vary from $20.00 a week, for students living in the dormitories, to $22.00 or $25.00 a week for private rooms.

During the winter months, special rates will be given to those students who are registered at the Academy in Philadelphia.

Rooms may be reserved at any time, but such reservations must be confirmed by letter which will reach the school two weeks before the date arranged for occupancy. Otherwise the management will be at liberty to dispose of the room.

EQUIPMENT

The equipment of the school affords ample studio room, and includes separate dormitory buildings for men and women, an Exhibition Hall and a Swimming Pool.

The buildings are supplied with hot and cold running water and with electric light.

The Reading Rooms are supplied with current magazines and a library of several hundred volumes. The Recreation Hall is provided with a stage, footlights and dressing rooms.

REQUIREMENTS AND RULES

Satisfactory references are required from all applicants, and, in addition, a doctor's certificate of health is desired. This measure safeguards every student accepted by the School. As the students live in the buildings, conformity with reasonable regulations is necessary to secure proper chaperonage. Students are expected to know how to conduct themselves from principles of honor without specific rules.

Students are not permitted to smoke inside the buildings. This is an absolute rule and is necessary to guard against fire and insure cleanliness.

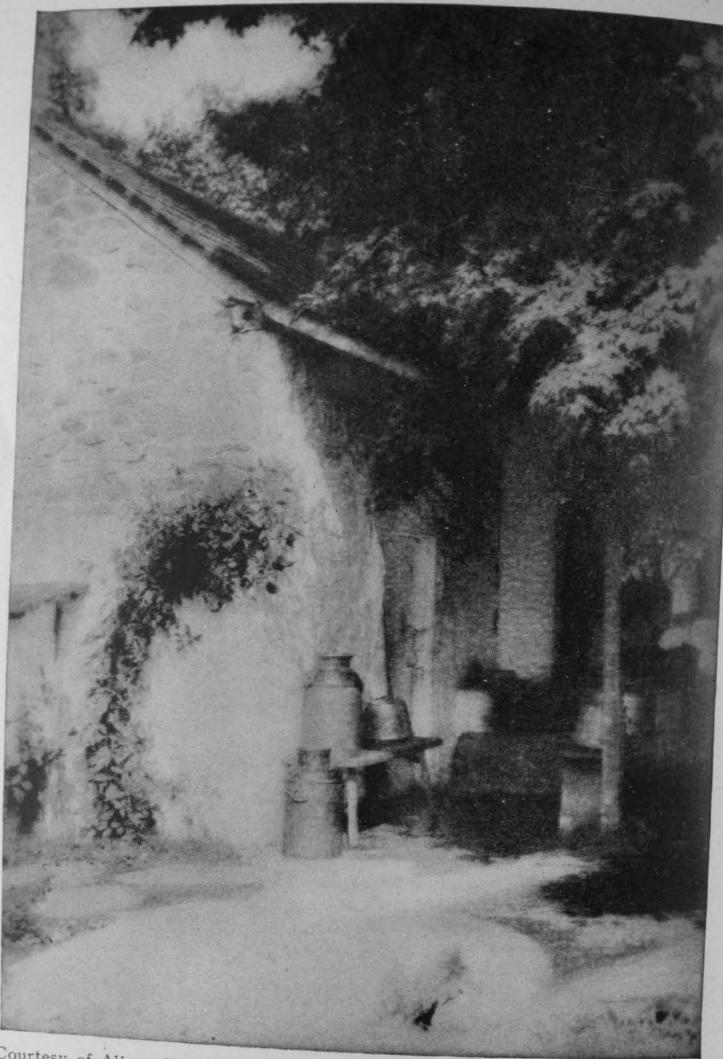

No student will be received at the School unless all arrangements for accommodations have been previously made with the management. Students must not come to the School until their applications have been accepted and their accommodations provided.

No student is admitted for a shorter stay than two weeks except by the special consent of the Manager.

No student under 16 years of age is eligible for admission.

"'He is great who is what he is from nature and who never reminds us of others.' The secret of the highest power is simply the uniting of the outer agencies of Expression with the Power that works from within. Are you a painter? Then in the degree that you open yourself to the power of the forces within, will you become great instead of mediocre. You can never put into permanent form inspirations higher than those that come through your own soul."

-Ralph Waldo Trine

"As when a painter, poring on a face Divinely, thro all hindrance, finds the man

Behind it, and so paints him that his face,

The shape and color of a mind and life

Lives for his children, ever at its best."

-Tennyson
