Dear Richenda,

I am sorry for delaying to answer your letter. I left your letter in the office & my address book is always kept at home. Sometimes I remember to write to you, I either ~~forgot~~ forget your address or their address. It seems that I am ^{now} more absent minded than before.

Mr & Mrs. Las Kay's address is "521-10th Ave. Seattle, 22. Washington." I still haven't written to them, because I think it would be better for your letter to reach them first, then my letter would be there a little after yours.

Last two weeks my wife read an article from a Washington newspaper which told about the last World War in which ~~the~~ a very high percentage of those missing in action were discovered to be safe after the war was over. Many reasons were cited in that article. My wife asked me to send the news clipping to you, but I am sorry that I can not find it now. I would send it to you in case I find it in the future.

I am still working in the Chinese Naval Attaché's Office of the Chinese Embassy. In the evening I am tutoring some American friends to study the Chinese language. Every day I won't be home to have supper until 9 o'clock. My wife is working in the National Research Council as a nutritionist. Her office is in the Department of Agriculture.

We hope you would come to Washington to visit us in the near future. We wish that some days, when our works are not so heavy, we would be able to go to New York, hope for a few days. If we would be in New York we certainly would like to see you.

Best wishes to you

Sincerely yours
Bird
