REPORT OF THE OFFICERS AND BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The year 1958 opened in history-making fashion by an innovation in our long series of annual exhibitions. This year we collaborated with the Detroit Institute of Arts, and the entire 153rd Annual Exhibition of Oil Painting and Sculpture, on view in Philadelphia from January 26th to February 23rd, was shown in Detroit from March 18th through April 13th.

Our exhibition schedule was further enriched by the staging of a large show titled 20th Century American Painting and Sculpture from Philadelphia Private Collections, October 25th through 30th. Fifteen generous, and cooperative, lenders made possible an activity which proved to be one of the most attractive we have ever staged. It was very warmly received and was seen by many visitors. It also acted as a most ideal project in public relations, and we believe that many new friends were made, and, most certainly, many old friends feel their interest the more devoted to us. Our City also can take renewed pride in the sensitive perception and breadth of cultural interest evidenced by this show.

The Spring of the year marked the beginning of a much-needed project by which the physical condition of our School department might be improved. Excellent enrollment, the sale of our Arch Street annex, with the subsequent moving of the activities carried on there to Broad and Cherry Streets, and the long-standing handicap of bad light in several of our studios due to the tall buildings on the North side of Cherry Street, all combined in accentuated need of study for correction. Under the leadership of Mr. James P. Magill, currently the Chairman of our Committee on Instruction, plans were discussed.

Mr. Magill took the personal financial responsibility for the cost of tentative plans prepared by the firm of Harbeson Hough Livingston & Larson. In brief, the initial studies provided for a simple loft construction of four additional stories to be erected over the Southwest section of our present building to house, chiefly, the painting and print classes, the old quarters to be revamped to give much-needed space to the sculpture department, and providing a new School entrance from Cherry Street. In the Fall of the year when the above scheme was reaching a point when fund-raising was considered for accomplishing some such ends, two of our Directors expressed disapproval and suggested several alternate schemes for the general continuance of our life and activities. It was, therefore, deemed wise to explore all ideas in this connection, and the year closed with no definite conclusions. It seems time, however, in this report to say that all these developments are an indication of renewed life, and interest in our well-being, and point toward an ultimate conclusion which will open a new era of even greater importance for this venerable institution.

Another important innovation was inaugurated in January, when the Board of Directors asked the Faculty of our School to designate, by election, one of their number to act as an ex-officio member of that body. Mr. George Harding subsequently took his place on the Board and, by his broad experience and wise judgment, provided splendid counsel.

In each of these annual reports it is of utmost importance to give credit to the Mayor and City Council, who continue to favor this Academy by granting a yearly contribution of $25,000.00. Without this financial boon we would find it impossible to carry forward our many-sided activities through which we serve our students, our members, and the public.

This year has also been marked by considerable changes in our official body, the most important being the resignation of Mr. John F. Lewis, Jr., from the Presidency in October. Mr. Lewis's resignation was accepted with genuine regret after his nine years of devoted service in that capacity. It is gratifying, however, to report that he continues as a member of our Board of Directors with unchanged devotion to the Academy's interests. Mr. Henry S. Drinker, Vice-President since 1933, was elected to the Presidency. We regret to report the resignation of Mr. George P. Orr, who has served faithfully on our Board since 1949. Three new members have been elected to the Board of Directors: Mrs. Herbert Cameron Morris, Mr. Frank T. Howard, and Mr. Raymond A. Speiser. We also note that, due to a change in the Chairmanship of our Women's Committee, Mrs. Elias Wolf, as the present Chairman, becomes an ex-officio member of our Board.

All of the above is but a thumbnail sketch of our Academy life through the year 1958. Our activities in detail follow under department headings.

HENRY S. DRINKER, President

JOSEPH T. FRASER, JR., Director

EXHIBITIONS

153rd ANNUAL EXHIBITION OF OIL PAINTING AND SCULPTURE

(Private View — January 24th; open to public January 26th through February 23rd [Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts]. Open to public March 18th through April 13th [Detroit Institute of Arts]).

This year, for the first time in its long history, the Academy broke with tradition and, through collaboration with The Detroit Institute of Arts, sent the entire exhibition there for showing after it closed in Philadelphia. This ideally combined effort permitted us to advertise purchase funds of $20,000.00: $10,000.00 — Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts; $6,000.00 — Fleisher Memorial Fund; $4,000.00 — Detroit Institute of Arts. Actually, this sum was exceeded by the purchasing committees from each of the institutions, and, together with a most unusual amount of individual buying, an all-time record for sales was achieved. (The total appears at the end of this section of the Report.) This coupling of management also had the virtue of giving the Detroit Institute of Arts an important contemporary cross-section for much less than they could have done it alone, and the costs to us were considerably less than when we had last done a similar show. It is expected that in alternate years, when we dedicate our annuals to oil painting and sculpture, similar arrangements may be made.

PHILADELPHIA ART TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION EXHIBITION

(April 10th through May 4th: Reception—April 16th.)

The Academy was pleased to play host to the annual exhibition organized by the Philadelphia Art Teachers' Association. A section of this show was devoted to the work of members who participated in the painting and print workshops held in cooperation with the Academy during the current year. This was an invited group and not, therefore, subject to jury action. The exhibition consisted of 67 items, several of them by former Academy student presently affiliated with the public education system.

20TH CENTURY AMERICAN PAINTING AND SCULPTURE EXHIBITION FROM PHILADELPHIA PRIVATE COLLECTIONS (Private View

October 24th; open to public October 25th through November 30th.)

This show included 417 paintings and 61 sculptures by 199 artists, lent by the following collectors, from the treasures that adorn their homes:

Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Breyer, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. David Bortin

Mr. and Mrs. David J. Grossman

The Ingersoll Collection—

Mr. and Mrs. R. Sturgis Ingersoll

Miss Anna Warren Ingersoll

Mrs. Phebe Ingersoll Benson

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Ingersoll

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Ingersoll

Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Ingersoll, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Lewis, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Gates Lloyd

Mr. and Mrs. James P. Magill

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Morris

Dr. and Mrs. Matthew T. Moore

Mr. and Mrs. Meyer P. Potamkin

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Speiser

The Beale Collection—

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard T. Beale

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred W. Putnam

Mr. and Mrs. Evan Randolph, Jr.

Mrs. Morris Wenger

The Michael and Sonia Watter

Collection

Mrs. John Wintersteen

The work in the exhibition was largely representational, although one entire collection, and some works from other lenders, were abstractions. This exhibition naturally did not pretend to represent all of the distinguished private art collections for which our City is well known, the problem of space alone making that impossible. Nor, in any case, did the Academy show an entire private collection; oftentimes only a limited part was included. But each collection was shown as an entity, and the show consumed the entire gallery space.

EXHIBITION OF ANCESTRAL PORTRAITS (Private View December 8th; open to public December 9, 1958 through January 11, 1959.)

This exhibition was arranged by the Loan Exhibition Committee of the local chapter of The National Society of the Colonial Dames of America, as a part of its plan for an annual exhibition which must always include only those works of historical, fine, or decorative arts, interest, in possession of members of the Society. All of the 85 works included were painted before 1840.

SPECIAL EVENTS—1958

FREE CONCERTS

The following nine works received attention during the year from Theodor Siegl, the Academy's conservator and technical adviser:

Richard Peters, Jr. by Rembrandt Peale; Roman Landscape by Jasper Francis Cropsey; View in Dovedale, England by Isaac L. Williams; The Fish House Door by John F. Peto; Prodigal Son by Russell Cowles; Nicodemus by Henry O. Tanner; Crucifixion by Franklin C. Watkins; Petrarch's Laura attributed to Giovanni B. Ciarini; Trial of General Jackson before Judge Hall by Christian Schussele.

SCHOOLS

We can once again report an excellent School year. Enrollments have increased in both the Day and Evening classes, and the Faculty members are encouraged by the number of young and promising talents who come to us for study.

Genuine handicaps, however, are continually evident in our physical set-up. A general statement concerning an encouraging movement on the part of our Board of Directors to remedy this situation is presented in detail in the Report of the Officers and Board of Directors. Some improvements were accomplished in the School area. The ceilings, walls and woodwork in the mural studio, both sculpture studios, and the large antique studio, were painted by an outside contractor. In addition, our own maintenance crew painted the walls and the floor of the advanced studio, the remaining lockers on the main floor, and the hall floors. Additional lockers were installed in the basement.

After a period of many rewarding years under the direction of Henry McCarter, George Harding, and Edward Shenton, the Management decided to discontinue the Illustration Department in the Fall of 1958. In place of teaching the illustrators, Mr. Shenton now conducts a weekly discussion of famous authors and their works. These classes have considered the works of Joyce, Elliot, Melville, Hemingway, and other similar men of letters.

At the very beginning of our Fall semester the illness of George Harding necessitated adjustments in the Mural Department. John Hanlen continued his excellent assistantship, and we were fortunate in procuring the services of Henry Varnum Poor, nationally known for his murals, paintings and ceramics. A session in graphic techniques, under the direction of Morris Blackburn, was included in the Evening School program. We are sure that this is a very worthwhile addition to the opportunities afforded our evening students, and opens the way for day students to supplement their day-time instruction.

The Academy was honored, in the month of October, by having the State Department send Franklin C. Watkins to Russia with a group of American artists to visit with artists of that country. During the absence of Mr. Watkins we engaged guest critics — Mr. Benon Spruance of Philadelphia, and Mr. Jack Levine of New York City.

In the Summer, through a project organized and sponsored by the Carl Schurz Memorial Foundation, a group of 30 examples of our students' graphic work was sent as a traveling exhibition to Germany, and a similar group of German students' graphic work, from the Akademie der Bildenden Kureste in Munich, came to America. In August the combined group was on display at the Carl Schurz Memorial Foundation in Philadelphia.

On Thursday afternoon, May 15th, Mr. and Mrs. David Gwinn entertained in the Galleries to give Academy members, and their guests, the opportunity to purchase student work submitted in competition for European Traveling Scholarships and other awards.

Present and former students were honored by various national grants and awards, as follows: David De Long, Tiffany Foundation award of $2,000.00; Jack Massey, painter, and Allen Harris, sculptor, American Academy in Rome Fellowships for one year of residence in Rome; Francis Speight and Ben Kamihira, National Academy Altman Prizes of $2,000.00 each. Ben Kamihira also received a grant of $2,500.00 from the Tiffany Foundation.

PUBLIC RELATIONS

The membership department has had a good year. We have enrolled 227 new annual and 10 new sustaining members; 10 members have increased their classifications; others have sent contributions with dues, all amounting to $3965.00 in new funds. Many members also have sent lists of persons they suggested we invite to become members. Again, I urge each member to keep this important service in mind. No one is better qualified to interest others in Academy membership than the satisfied member.

During this period, because of their gifts or contributions to the Academy, the following were elected to higher form memberships, in perpetuity: John F. Lewis, Jr., Benefactor; Mr. and Mrs. James P. Magill, Patrons; Edward R. Anshutz, Mrs. Thomas S. Gates, Miss Dorothy Grafty, Miss Marguerite Keasby, Mrs. William Clarke Mason, Albin Polasek, Mrs. James M. R. Sinkler, Joseph Wood, and Carl Zigrosser, Fellows.

Twenty-four public, private and parochial schools, women's clubs and organizations with a varying type of activity, made 45 visits to our two principal exhibitions from the Greater Philadelphia area and southern New Jersey. Other group visits continued through the year.

The local chapter of Artists' Equity Association, the American Institute of Planners, the Philadelphia Water Color Club, and the Bargain Shop Committee of the Pennsylvania Hospital, had special meetings here. We entertained the Museum Council of Philadelphia for lunch. The local Miniature Camera Club has continued to use our auditorium for its regular meetings. The Helvetic Society of Philadelphia presented a lecture here by Professor Marcel Rotlisberger of Yale University on Paul Klee, which attracted a large and interested audience.

For the ninth consecutive season free chamber music concerts were held in the Rotunda. These events continue to maintain a high level of performance and public appeal. In spite of blizzards or heavy storms, well over 2000 persons attended the five 1958 programs. Their musical direction continues in the able hands of Vladimir Sokoloff. The Recording Industries' Trust Funds and the Fredric R. Mann Foundation have continued their cooperation with the Academy in making the concerts free to the public. We feel proud in being able to bring these excellent opportunities to Philadelphia audiences, and a great debt of gratitude to all who help us do so.

Our publicity must be accomplished on a national basis. In addition to newspapers and periodicals, many of the latter also listing our activities in their calendars of events, we have had excellent cooperation from radio and television stations. There have been innumerable "spot" announcements in addition to personal appearances of faculty members, exhibiting artists, prize-winning students, and others.

Where publicity and public relations are concerned, cooperation with every branch of Academy activity — museum, schools, Board of Directors, Women's Committee, Fellowship, and organizations holding activities in our building — continues to be a responsibility of this department.

ELIZABETH Z. SWENSON,
Director.

WOMEN'S COMMITTEE

The Women's Committee arranged a buffet dinner for some 340 persons on January 24th, preceding the private view for the 153rd Annual Exhibition. Held in Gallery F, this was a gala occasion, attended by members of the Board of Directors and the Faculty, as well as by the Committee and their guests.

Our members presided at the refreshment tables for the private view, as well as at other functions, including the reception at the opening of the exhibition Twentieth Century American Painting and Sculpture from Philadelphia Private Collections, on October 24th.

In the hope of interesting more people in membership in the Academy, the members of the Women's Committee are ever on the alert for ways in which to bring people to the exhibitions, both temporary and permanent. We sponsored a series of luncheons during the "Twentieth Century" show, at which some of the exhibitors were hostesses and the Director or a Faculty member spoke briefly.

In order that our Committee members may be kept informed about the work of the school and the program of the Academy, we have carried forward a plan begun last season, of inviting the Director, the Curator of Schools, or a Faculty member to talk to us from time to time on the activities which are their particular concerns.

We continue to work in the interest of the students, as our services are needed, and we maintain a Student Aid Fund to help when emergencies arise. We still have the attractive note pads available for a modest sum, as one means of adding to this Fund.

During the year Mrs. David J. Grossman, Mrs. James P. Magill, and Mrs. Evan Randolph, Jr., were elected to membership on the Committee and on May 1st I assumed the chairmanship succeeding Mrs. Hart McMichael who, during her three-year term of office, gave very generously of her time, her enthusiasm, and her great abilities.

FRANCES L. WOLF,
Chairman.

THE FELLOWSHIP OFFICERS

Roswell Weidner .....	President
Roy C. Nuse.....	First Vice-President
Mabel Woodrow Gill.....	Vice-President
Mary Townsend Mason.....	Vice-President
George Harding .....	Vice-President
Violet Oakley .....	Vice-President
Franklin C. Watkins.....	Vice-President
Ethel V. Ashton.....	Recording Secretary
Elizabeth Eichman.....	Corresponding Secretary
Irene Denney .....	Treasurer

The main purpose of the Fellowship (organized in 1897) is to foster a spirit of fraternity among former and present students of the Academy.

THE COMMITTEE ON FELLOWSHIP

Mabel W. Gill, Chairman-Treasurer	Ethel Ashton	Irene Denney
Mary Mullineux	Roy C. Nuse	Alma Anderson Patterson

The function of the Committee is to administer the following four funds: Henry J. Thouron Memorial Fund; Picture Purchase Fund; Special Fund; Mary Butler Memorial Fund; all for the benefit of Fellowship members, and present or former students. The Committee also endeavors to be useful to both the Fellowship and the Academy, whenever possible.

In addition, the Committee is responsible for (1) the purchase of painting and sculpture to encourage or assist artists, or improving the Loan Collection from which works are currently on exhibition in various institutions; (2) providing art classes, usually in settlement houses, to give study opportunities for the youth of those neighborhoods, as well as teaching experience and income for present and/or former Academy students; and (3) giving a type of financial assistance not permissible from the regular Fellowship treasury to current and former Academy students with tuition, artists' materials, living expenses. The Butler Fund now amounts to approximately $9,500.00; its goal is $15,000.00. There is also an annual gift from Mrs. John S. Hurlbut in memory of Mrs. Philip S. Collins.

	{ Annual $10.00 Sustaining $25.00 Contributing $100.00
Yearly Members
Life Member		$300
Fellow		$1000 to $5000
Patron		$5000 to $25,000
Benefactor		$25,000 or more

(Fellows, Patrons and Benefactors are enrolled in perpetuity.)

A membership in the Academy helps to support and affiliates you with the oldest art institution in the country and one of the most important in the community and the nation. Founded in 1805 and chartered in 1806, its origin actually dates from the efforts made in 1791 by Charles Willson Peale to organize a school for the fine arts in Philadelphia.

In the Academy's schools, many distinguished American painters, sculptors and illustrators have been trained, and its students of today rank with the best.

In its galleries are shown two of America's major annual art exhibitions; American Painting and Sculpture; Water Colors and Prints; other special exhibitions; and the Academy's permanent collection, representing a cross-section of American art from the early eighteenth century through its current acquisitions.

Members receive notices of all activities (concerts, lectures, motion pictures), invitations to private views, catalogues of exhibitions and schools, the Annual Report, a discount on art works purchased from Academy-sponsored professional exhibitions, and have use of the art reference library.

FORM OF BEQUEST

I give, devise and bequeath to The Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts _____ Dollars, in trust, to invest and keep invested and apply the income to the maintenance of the said Academy.

The Academy is open weekdays (except Mondays) from 10 A.M. to 5 P.M.; Sundays and Holidays from 1 to 5 P.M. Closed Mondays, New Year's Day, Good Friday, Memorial Day, Fourth of July, Thanksgiving and Christmas.
