THE PENNSYLVANIA ACADEMY OF THE FINE ARTS, 1918-1919

The Pennsylvania Academy conducts the oldest school in America devoted exclusively to the cultivation of the fine arts.

It also conducts at Chester Springs, Chester Co., Pennsylvania, what is believed to be the best equipped Open-air and Summer School in this country.

During the hundred and more years of the Academy's existence, it has aided in the training of many of the men and women whose names are the most illustrious on the pages of American Art. Among its former students are eminent painters—figure, landscape, and marine—mural decorators, illustrators, and sculptors of national reputation. In fact, its history is in no small measure the history of American Art itself.

Its schools are under the immediate care of a Curator and Committee on Instruction appointed by the President and Board of Directors, together with a Faculty composed of representative artists of the day, men of wide experience as teachers and eminently qualified to discover and develop every latent talent which students may possess. It does not want students unless they intend to be serious workers and willing to make some sacrifice for the cause of art, nor does it want students who expect it to teach them and support them at the same time.

The aim of the Academy is not only to supply the best facilities for the study of the Fine Arts in general, but also by means of regular courses of study to equip its students for any special line of artistic work which they may desire to follow.

It wastes no time in preparing its students for admission to its courses of study, but engages them at once and exclusively in the study of the Fine Arts and bends all its energies in this direction alone.

It especially aims to instruct its students in correct Drawing, and some of its largest prizes are based upon this fundamental requisite to graphic art. It aims, furthermore, to instruct its pupils in the harmony and contrast of Color, and to create and develop in them a correct color sense, also in composition, in perspective, and in every other essential to a comprehensive study of the fine arts.

Lectures of general and special interest are given during the year, and the students may attend them without extra charge.

The Academy's Permanent Collection of paintings and sculpture is an important adjunct to the students' regular work.

The Permanent Collection of paintings and sculpture includes the Gallery of National Portraiture, the Temple Collection of Modern American Paintings, and the Gibson Collection, which is largely composed of works of the Continental schools.

Copying in the galleries is permitted to students under reasonable regulations.

The Academy is equipped in every way to teach the technique of Painting and Sculpture.

The instruction it affords is fully equal from a technical standpoint to that obtainable in Europe. Its Faculty, collections, galleries, class-rooms, and equipment of models and casts are admirably fitted for their purpose. In fact, it can teach art to Americans better than they can be taught abroad, and it is an exploded idea that it is necessary to go to Europe in order to study in some particular artistic "atmosphere."

The Annual Exhibitions held by the Academy bring together the best examples of American painting and sculpture, and enable the student to follow intelligently the various movements of modern art, and study the technical methods by which the art of the day is achieving its results. These exhibitions have been recognized for many years as being the foremost in America. During the past year they included:

An Exhibition of Water Colors composed of 850 examples, representing 252 different artists;

An Exhibition of Miniatures composed of 119 examples, representing 64 different artists;

The Academy's 113th Annual Exhibition of Oil Paintings and Sculpture, composed of 495 paintings and 85 sculptures, and representing a total of 393 artists. This Exhibition was opened to public view for seven weeks and visited by 55,210 people.

During 1918 the following Exhibitions were held:

The Thomas Eakins Memorial Exhibition.

The Special Exhibition of a group of Canvases by Spenser Zuloaga.

FREE SCHOLARSHIPS

Through the generosity of Mrs. Alexander Hamilton Rice, Twenty Scholarships in the Academy have been provided, entitling the holders thereof to free tuition.

Ten of them are in memory of William L. Elkins, and ten in memory of George D. Widener. The Scholarships will be awarded by the Board of Directors upon the recommendation of the Committee on Instruction and the Faculty of the Schools.

Through the generosity of Edward Bok, a scholarship will be available from the balance of the "Philadelphia Prize," which he has established for the Academy's Annual Exhibition of Painting and Sculpture.

Under the will of Mary R. Burton, deceased, a free scholarship has been established.

Through the generosity of Mrs. George K. Johnson, the Sarah Kaighn Cooper Free Scholarship has been established.

Applicants for these scholarships must submit original drawings or paintings before September 15 and show that they are otherwise worthy of the award.

TRAVELLING SCHOLARSHIPS

So far as instruction is concerned, there is no necessity whatever for the student to leave America, but, by the liberal provision of the wills of Emlen Cresson and Priscilla P., his wife, a fund has been created, as a memorial to their deceased son, William Emlen Cresson, Academician, the income of which is to be applied by the Academy in sending its most meritorious students to Europe. The income is divided into scholarships of $500 each, awarded to the students impartially upon the merits of their work.

During the last year seventeen students were awarded Cresson Scholarships, the enjoyment of which is deferred until travel and study in Europe are considered advisable by the Board of Directors of the Academy.

OTHER PRIZES

Besides the Cresson Scholarships, other substantial prizes are offered to students as hereafter stated, and every incentive held out to them to develop their talents to the uttermost.

THE WASHINGTON BUILDING: CHESTER SPRINGS SUMMER SCHOOL

SOME ADVANTAGES OF LOCATION

The Academy building is located in the heart of Philadelphia, within one square of the City Hall and within two or three blocks of the central city railroad depots. While it is convenient to the business portion of the city, it is also readily accessible to the residential districts, and students can obtain good board at reasonable rates. Philadelphia is often called "The City of Homes," and of all the greater American cities it is probably the most worthy of the name. Houses can be purchased or rented upon easy terms, and apartments and studios obtained by the year or by the month upon fair and reasonable rates. The cost of living is low.

The city contains, in addition to the Academy's gallery, a number of notable collections of paintings which are accessible to students. Among the more important may be mentioned: The Wiltach Collection in Fairmount Park; The Lankenau Collection at the Drexel Institute; the important paintings at the Historical Society of Pennsylvania, and at Independence Hall; the private collections of the late John G. Johnson, of Joseph E. Widener, and of the late William L. Elkins. Admission to Private Collections by appointment only.

To students attending the Academy, the Reference Library and the Galleries are free during the year of their attendance.

THE OPEN-AIR SCHOOL AT CHESTER SPRINGS

The Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts conducts a Summer School on its tract of 40 acres in Chester Springs, Chester County, Pa.,  $7\frac{1}{2}$  miles northwest of Phoenixville and one-quarter of a mile from the village of Chester Springs on the Pickering Valley Railroad.

The property through which the Pickering Creek flows is about 300 feet above mean ocean tide level amid typical Pennsylvania farm land, enriched by the beauties of Pickering Creek with its meadows and valleys.

The buildings of the school, which afford ample studio room and include separate dormitory buildings for men and women, are situated near the foot of a hill rising to the north over 500 feet.

This property, formerly known as "Yellow Springs," and later as "Bath," was a favorite watering place in Colonial days and in the early part of the 19th century. It possesses a famous iron spring, the waters of which gave the place its old name of "Yellow Springs," a second spring impregnated with sulphur and a third spring, which on account of its exceedingly pure water is known as the "Diamond Spring."

Through its proximity to Valley Forge, the school property and the surrounding country are rich in historical association. During the Summer of 1917 the Historical Society of Chester County, Pa., unveiled a bronze tablet to mark the location of the Hospital which stood on the site of the present studio building and which Washington erected to accommodate the sick and wounded soldiers of the Revolutionary Army.

The chief object of the Academy in establishing a summer school in the country is to supplement the work done during the Winter in its schools in Philadelphia by instruction in painting in the open air, and to afford an opportunity for the study of art to school teachers and to others who cannot spare the time to study in the winter.

The methods of instruction adopted are substantially the same as those given at the Academy in Philadelphia during its regular Winter courses, special attention, however, being paid to landscape drawing and painting, to figure painting in the open air, and to the study of sunlight and shade. While the range of the fine-art instruction is as broad as possible, all fashions and mannerisms are avoided. Students are taught to make "studies" of nature rather than "sketches," and are also taught to carry on their work as far as their abilities permit.

The general method of instruction is by criticism of the work done, but the instructors will, from time to time, work with the students for the purpose of directing them in selection and interpretation.

CRESSON TRAVELLING SCHOLARSHIPS

The conditions governing competition for Cresson Travelling Scholarships require students to be registered for four terms in the Academy's Schools. In estimating this period of sixteen months necessary to qualify competitors, time spent at work at the Summer School will be counted, but no student will be eligible to compete who is not registered in the Philadelphia School for both terms of his competition year.

CAMOUFLAGE

During the summer the Academy will conduct a class in Land Camouflage. Arrangements have been made for the subject to be presented by Henry McCarter, whose knowledge of Vibration of Color Patterns and Line is well known.

PRIZES

A Prize of $75 will be awarded for the best landscape drawing or painting done at the Chester Springs School by a regularly enrolled student of the Academy, or by a student of the Chester Springs School who shall have studied there for not less than one month; a second prize of $50 for the second best, and a third prize of $25 for the third best. These prizes will be awarded about October 15th.

CRITICISMS

Criticisms will be given from time to time by different members of the Faculty: by Fred Wagner in May, June, July, September and October; by Henry McCarter also in June, July, September and October; by W. L. Lathrop, Robert Spencer, Arthur B. Carles, in July and August, and also by Hugh H. Breckenridge in August, and others as may be arranged.

The Academy accepts serious students only and not those who simply desire an advantageous place to board in the country. To such students a rate of board is fixed as low as possible in view of present conditions, the rate to include all charges for instruction (but not materials for drawing or painting). The rates for board and lodging vary from $7.50 per week for students living in the dormitories, to $10, $12.50 and $15 per week where private rooms are required. On account of the high cost of supplies, the minimum rates of board (which includes tuition) cannot be reduced this year. The table is simple and wholesome.

The buildings are supplied with hot and cold running water and with electric light.

Satisfactory references are required from all applicants for admission, and as the students live in the buildings, conformity with reasonable regulations is necessary to secure proper chaperonage and the exercise of supervision. Students will be expected to know how to conduct themselves from principles of honor without specific rules.

Students are not allowed to smoke in the Studios and Dormitories.

No student will be accepted for a shorter stay than one week.

No student under 16 years of age is eligible for admission.

THE COURSES OF INSTRUCTION IN THE ACADEMY

DRAWING AND PAINTING

The Courses of Instruction in the Academy at Philadelphia are divided into Departments of Drawing and Painting; of Sculpture; and of Illustration. In each of these departments there is certain prescribed work which must be done, but the departments are closely allied, the advanced students in each being not only allowed but also recommended to work in the others.

The general method of instruction is by criticism of the work done, but the individuality of the student is not repressed by fixed methods.

The aim is to help the student to observe accurately and record truthfully what he sees, and as he sees it.

ANTIQUE COURSE

In order that students who have had comparatively little training in drawing may pursue their studies under the easiest conditions and advance naturally to higher work, a preparatory Antique Course is conducted, which includes drawing from the cast, drawing and painting from still life, and lectures upon composition, per-

The Life and Head Course comprises all the advanced classes in drawing and painting, and includes drawing and painting from the Human Figure, and drawing and painting from the Head, and from Still Life, and lectures upon Composition, Perspective, and Anatomy.

In drawing and painting from the Life, students will not be confined to criticisms from a single instructor but will have the great advantage of profiting by the viewpoints of several members of the Faculty. The night Life classes will be under the supervision of Mr. Garber, while in the day classes, weekly criticisms will be given during October and November by Mr. Blashfield and during December, January, February, March, April and May by Mr. Hale.

SPECIAL CLASSES

Mr. Vonnoh's Class in Composition

The Class in Composition or Self-Expression is conducted by Mr. Vonnoh. The aim is to encourage the student by sympathy and coöperation to express courageously and forcefully his impressions and conceptions.

No theories or formulas as to what constitutes or makes a work of art are attempted.

The Class is in fact a company of young artists, each doing that which is native to himself, and meeting at stated intervals to exhibit work for comparison and open discussion.

Dr. Radasch's Lectures on Anatomy

The Lectures on Anatomy begin about the first week of November, and are open to students of any course without extra charge. They are illustrated with the stereopticon, with drawings made in the presence of the class by the instructor, and also by means of the living model. They fully cover the subject of artistic anatomy.

Mr. Harbeson's Lectures on Perspective

The Lectures on Perspective begin about the first week in November. They are open to students of any course without extra charge.

Roy C. Nuse

COMPOSITION (1918)

The Course consists in lectures upon the elements of linear perspective illustrated by drawings made before the class; in exercises upon the same subject and in sketching from the solid object and from nature; and in the application of the knowledge thus gained to illustration and painting. The way in which artists of various schools have used the principles of perspective is demonstrated by lantern projections of their works.

Mr. Carles' Costume Sketch Class

A Costume Sketch Class will be conducted throughout both terms. It will meet Saturday morning between nine o'clock and noon. Sketches from the living model are made in black and white, or in color. Members of any other class in the school may attend the Costume Sketch Class without additional charge.

There will also be a Tuesday evening sketch class, from seven until nine o'clock, with a living model.

The chief object of these classes is to teach the student to draw readily, and grasp quickly, the whole composition shown him, as an illustration of character.

Aurelius Renzetti STEWARDSON PRIZE, 1918 (18 HOUR STUDY)

SCULPTURE

The Classes in Sculpture will be under the direction of Mr. Charles Grafly, and are as follows: For men every morning; for women every afternoon; and for men every Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday nights.

SCULPTURE STUDENTS' EXHIBITION

The work of the Classes in Sculpture consists of modelling from the living model, generally in the round, but occasionally in relief, and from both the full-length figure and the head only.

In addition to the work from life, each student is required to present two sketch-models of sculptural themes, when directed by the Instructor. On these the student will receive individual monthly criticism throughout the balance of the school year, in order to develop the original themes to their fullest extent, as if the subjects were to be finally executed in full size.

Requirements for Admission

Photographs of work or specimens of modelling of sufficient merit are required for admission to these classes.

J. Wallace Kelly

SCULPTURE, 1918

Students not sufficiently advanced for admission to life classes are offered facilities for modelling from the antique cast, and as soon as they have acquired sufficient proficiency to admit them to life classes, they are immediately promoted without the payment of any further fee.

WORK FROM THE SCULPTURE CLASS IN COMPETITION FOR THE CRESSON

Some practical knowledge of the use of clay and a true conception of form in the round are of manifest advantage to both painter and illustrator.

Students in sculpture are permitted to work in the drawing and painting classes and recommended to work therein, but admission to the life drawing classes is, for sculptors, subject to the same requirements as for painters.

The Night Class for men meets from 7 to 10 p.m. The work in this class is identical with that done in the Day Class, except that the working hours are less.

Students are required to furnish their own clay, life modelling stand and bucket for clay. The Academy will furnish one head stand for each student.

The Fees for Sculpture Classes

The fee for the Classes in Sculpture is $50 per term. Students are allowed to work in the Day Classes or Night Classes or in both, and students in Modelling are permitted to work in the Drawing and Painting Classes without extra charge.

George M. Ericson

ILLUSTRATION, 1918

ILLUSTRATION

The Class in Illustration will be under the direction of Mr. Henry McCarter. Its purpose is to provide for the student such practical instruction as will enable him upon the completion of the course to immediately enter the professional field of magazine and book illustrating, decorative and newspaper work. Instruction is given in drawing, in composition, and in the technique of all mediums—pen, charcoal, black and white, tempera and oil.

Requirements for Admission

Students, to be eligible for admission, must have had some preparatory work in Drawing, such as is given in the Academy's Antique Classes.

Students are admitted upon the exhibition of satisfactory work to the Faculty.

The Class in Illustration will meet daily throughout the school year. Special rooms are set aside for their use.

The class draws from the living model. Individual criticism is given with special regard to the illustrator's requirements, and completed illustrations are made to subjects assigned to the class. Upon the announcement of each of these subjects a general class talk follows, and upon the completion of the work there is both individual and general criticism.

Students in Illustration are permitted to compete for the Cresson Travelling Scholarships, and from those who do compete a certain amount of work in the Life Classes is required. Admission to the Life Drawing Classes is subject, however, to the same requirements from illustrators as from painters.

The successful result of the general art training given in the Academy Schools, and the special training they give in illustration, are shown by the large number of Academy students who have achieved distinguished success in the field of illustration.

DRAWINGS, BLACK AND WHITE, 1918

The Fee for the Illustration Class

The fee for the Class in Illustration is $50 per term.

Illustrators will be required to present each month work done in the Illustration Class and to participate in such Concours and examinations as may be announced during the season. Under the direction of their Instructor, they are also required to do Life Class work in drawing and are entitled to attend the Life Classes and the Still-Life Classes without extra charge. They are likewise entitled to attend the Lectures on Composition, Perspective, and Anatomy.

SCHOLARSHIPS AND PRIZES

Travelling Scholarships

By the wills of Emlen Cresson and Priscilla P. Cresson, a Fund has been created as a Memorial to their deceased son, William Emlen Cresson, Academician, the income of which is to be applied by The Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts in sending pupils of merit to Europe.

During the past year the Academy awarded seventeen Cresson Scholarships to pupils. Included in this number were ten painters, three sculptors and four illustrators. These awards have been made by the Board of Directors upon the recommendation of the Faculty, with the distinct understanding that the students are not to go abroad at the present time, but that the date of their trip will depend upon the return of European peace and upon the future determination of the Board of Directors.

The awards are divided among the various branches of instruction taught in the Schools, based upon the number of pupils in each Course as one factor, and the standard of the work as another factor. The award consists of $500 to each student, to be expended in foreign travel and work, within the limits of the Scholarship.

It is the intention of the Cresson Scholarships to give to the students of the Academy the advantage of seeing some of the important Galleries and Art Schools abroad, and the Academy desires to extend the benefit of the Scholarships to as many students as possible, provided they possess the necessary merit. The trip abroad is limited to the summer vacation, a period of four months, from June to September inclusive, so that students can return to the Academy for study during the ensuing school year. The Board of Directors, upon the recommendation of the Committee on Instruction, may, in case of exceptional merit, permit a student to compete for the Cresson Scholarships again, and receive a second award of $500. Unless some satisfactory excuse be accepted by the Committee on Instruction, such second competition and award must be during the next year succeeding the first award, but all students who have heretofore received one Cresson Travelling Scholarship and who, by reason of the war, have been unable to enjoy the same, are given Scholarships to the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts, carrying free tuition for the season of 1918-19, with the privilege of competing again in May 1919 for a second Cresson Travelling Scholarship.

GROUPS IN THE CRESSON TRAVELLING SCHOLARSHIP COMPETITION FOR FIRST AWARD, PAINTING CLASS, 1918

The award of a Travelling Scholarship is not to be regarded as a certificate of proficiency, and students receiving such award, whether for the first or second time, are required to return to the Academy for further study and to inspire and encourage their fellows.

During the past year six students were awarded Cresson Scholarships for the Second time.

No student will be awarded a Cresson Scholarship who has not studied at least 16 months in the Academy and been registered for the full terms during the year of competition.

In estimating the total sixteen months of study necessary to qualify competitors, time spent at work at the Chester Springs Summer School will be counted, but no student will be eligible to compete who is not registered in the Philadelphia schools for both terms of his competition year.

Plan of the Competition

The work required each month in the Academy Schools from students in Painting, Sculpture and Illustration will be the principal factor in determining the award of these Scholarships. Candidates failing to submit such work will be ineligible.

Painters will be required to present work each month in Composition, in drawing or painting from the Figure, in drawing or painting from the Head, and to participate in such Concours and examinations as may be announced during the season.

Sculptors will be required to present each month work done in the Composition Class and in the Life Modelling Class. They are required to participate in such Concours and examinations as may be announced during the season.

Illustrators will be required to present each month one head made from the model in the Illustration class and at least three drawings or paintings from Life during each term. They are required to participate in such Concours and examinations as may be announced during the season.

All work hung in competition for the Cresson Travelling Scholarships must have been made for, and approved by the instructors in whose classes the student is registered during his competition year.

THE CHARLES TOPPAN PRIZES

The Charles Toppan prizes for the next year will be, respectively, $300 and $200, and two honorable mentions of $100 each.

These prizes were established in 1881 by the gift of Mrs. Charles Toppan, Miss Harriette R. Toppan, and Mr. Robert N. Toppan.

The prizes will be awarded only to students who have previously received a Cresson Scholarship and who have worked in the Academy in Philadelphia at least five full days each month during the year of competition, or who have worked in the Chester Springs School, two weeks for each month's work omitted at the Academy.

Roy C. Nuse

FIRST TOPPAN PRIZE, 1918

Any student having received one Toppan prize is debarred from afterwards receiving another Toppan prize of the same or lower value.

The work submitted must be an original painting in oil or water color, the unaided work of the student without criticism, and all work in competition must be presented on or before Saturday, May 3, 1919.

The subject selected for this year is "any subject, excluding a portrait." No student may submit more than one picture and the size of the canvas submitted must not be less than twelve inches nor more than thirty-six inches in either dimension. Pictures offered in competition shall be neither framed nor glazed.

According to the positively expressed terms of the gift the drawing of the pictures will receive the first attention of the Judges.

Pictures shall be numbered by the Curator, and a memorandum of the number and artist's name kept in a sealed envelope (no list of numbers being kept), which shall be opened after the prize-winning pictures have been selected by the Committee on Instruction. No signatures nor ciphers shall be placed on canvas or stretcher, so that as far as possible the identity of the competitors shall be kept secret while the competition is under way.

No work will be accepted without the approval of the Committee on Instruction, and there is no obligation to award a prize if, in the opinion of the Committee, none of the work submitted is of sufficient merit.

THE THOURON PRIZES

The following awards, founded by Henry J. Thouron, a former Instructor in Composition in the Academy, will be made at the close of each school year, the terms of said awards being as follows:

A prize of $50 for a group of not less than three compositions upon subjects given to the class during the current season, and a prize of $25 for a second similar group, the first to be decided by the Faculty, the second by a vote of the students then working in the Schools; and one of $50 and one of $25, the first for general progress in study, the second for the work showing, in its treatment of said subjects, the most poetic, or abstract, or idealistic, point of view, both to be decided by the instructor of the class. The same awards are not to be made twice to the same student.

Grace Paterson

PAINTING, 1918

But one award is made to a student in the competition.

In the event of not making the annual awards, or any portion of them, the money is to accumulate until it shall amount to the sum of $500, when it shall be awarded, by vote of the Faculty, as the result of a competition in Composition upon a given subject, to the successful student for a three months' summer trip abroad, to include certain specified places and galleries, and for the special study of Composition.

THE STEWARDSON PRIZE

The Edmund Stewardson Prize of One Hundred Dollars, in the Department of Sculpture, will be awarded for the seventeenth time at the close of the school year.

This is an annual prize, to be competed for by present students of the Academy with such pupils of other art schools as may be approved by the Committee on Instruction. Having once received this award, a student becomes ineligible.

The subject for the competition shall be a full-length figure from the Antique or Life, either in the round or in relief, and will be announced by the Committee on Instruction on the first day of the Competition.

Studies shall not be less than two feet six inches in height and not more than three feet in height, and shall be made within eighteen hours, during three consecutive days, in six sessions of three hours each.

Each competitor shall privately draw by lot a number, and shall enclose the same with his or her name in a sealed envelope to the Secretary of the Academy. Upon completion of the work the competitor shall place a corresponding number upon the study submitted to the Jury of Award. When the subject is in high relief, position in the competition room shall be determined by lot. No one except the competitors shall be admitted to the competition room at any time during the days of the competition, nor shall any person except the Judges be present during inspection of the studies.

The Judges or Jury of Award shall be three professional sculptors, having no official connection with the Academy, or school or schools whose pupils may have taken part in the competition. When the successful number shall have been announced by the Judges, the Secretary shall, in the presence of one or more of the Directors of the Academy, open the sealed envelopes, and declare the name of the successful competitor. If no study be satisfactory to the Judges, the prize may, in their discretion, be withheld, and when no award is made, the amount of the prize may, in the discretion of the Board of Directors of the Academy, be added to the principal of the prize fund, or distributed with future prizes.

Aurelius Renzetti

The clay models offered in competition must be kept standing in good condition until otherwise ordered, and figures cast by the Academy become its property.

The competition for the year 1919 will take place on March 10, 11, and 12.

THE STIMSON PRIZE

In memory of Emma Burnham Stimson a Fund has been created for the award each year of a prize in sculpture of $100.00 for the best work done by the students in the regular course of the class.

The contest is open to students who have been registered for three terms and who are members of the Life Modelling Classes, but it is not open to former students who work in the class by special permission.

The subject for competition shall be a full-length figure from life, in the round, not less than 2 feet 6 inches in height, and shall be made by the applicant during class hours as a part of the regular work in the class.

The work shall be submitted anonymously to a jury appointed by the Committee on Instruction of the Board of Directors. The jury shall not include any instructor in the School.

The contest this year will take place during the months of January and February.

ZOOLOGICAL PRIZES

From the income of the John H. Packard Fund, established by the children of the late John H. Packard, M.D., for many years chairman of the Academy's Committee on Instruction, annual prizes of $30 and $20 will be awarded for the best and second best groups of original studies made from living animals. These prizes are open to all students of the Academy who have registered for both full terms of the school year, provided that a student having once received an award becomes thereafter ineligible.

THE PRIZE IN DRAWING

From the income of a fund established by William F. Ramborger, Esq., as a memorial to his sister, Aspasia Eckert Ramborger, who for some years was a student of the Academy, an Annual

Aulay P. Tompkins

RAMBORGER PRIZE, 1918

Prize of $25 will be awarded for the best drawing in black and white of a head from life by a pupil of the Academy who has not been under instruction over two years but has been registered in the Academy for both full terms of the school year. No student may submit more than one drawing, and having once received an award, the student becomes thereafter ineligible.

THE CHARLES M. LEA PRIZES

The Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts will hold a Special Exhibition of Drawings in connection with the Annual Exhibition of Water Colors in the Fall of 1918.

Through the generosity of Charles M. Lea, a First Prize of three hundred dollars and a Second Prize of one hundred and fifty dollars will be awarded respectively to the best and second best drawings.

Drawings eligible for competition must be executed by students regularly enrolled in any American School of Art which has a faculty of at least three instructors.

The number of works entered by any competitor must not exceed two.

The drawings must be upon white paper eighteen by twenty-four inches in size and unframed.

The subject must deal with the human figure, either singly or in composition, and be executed in black and white by pen, pencil or hard crayon, but not in chalk or charcoal, and the awards will be based upon the precision, accuracy of delineation, proportion, detail, simplicity, and picture quality of the drawings submitted.

The Jury of the Academy's Water Color Exhibition will make the awards. They may withhold either or both prizes if in their judgment the drawings are not of sufficient merit.

All entries must have the following information legibly written on the back of the drawing: Name of the Artist; Address to which the work is to be returned; Name of the School where the student is working; and the Signature of the Principal of that School.

Drawings must reach the Academy not later than Tuesday November 19, 1918.

LANDSCAPE PRIZES

A prize of $75 will be awarded for the best landscape drawing or painting done at the Chester Springs School by a regularly enrolled student of the Academy, or by a student of the Chester Springs School who shall have studied there for not less than one month, a second prize of $50 for the second best, and a third prize of $25 for the third best. These prizes will be awarded about October 15th.

THE ACADEMY'S FREE-HAND DRAWING PRIZES IN THE HIGHER SCHOOLS OF PHILADELPHIA AND VICINITY

The Board of Directors of The Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts have established a system of prize awards for original Free-hand Drawing by students of the higher schools of the city of Philadelphia and vicinity in order to encourage ease and facility in correct Free-hand Drawing, to discover students who possess talent, and to offer the advantages of the Academy to those who deserve them.

A first prize of $10 and a second prize of $5 will be awarded by the instructor of the class for the best and second best drawings made by a regularly enrolled student of each school.

The drawing must be made free hand from a cast or other object assigned by the instructor and must be the unaided work of the student.

The drawing must be made with lead pencil, charcoal or crayon on white paper 19 inches by 25 inches in size and must be signed on the back with the name and address of the student making it.

The drawing will be made at any time during the months of March and April, submitted to the instructor of the school, and the prizes announced before the 1st of May.

Similar prizes will be offered to students in other high schools, and at the end of April the two prize drawings from each school will be sent to the Secretary of the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts, Broad and Cherry Streets, Philadelphia, where they will be passed upon by the Faculty of the Academy, and further prizes awarded as follows:

$25 for the best drawing; $15 for the second, and $10 for the third.

It is hoped that these awards, and the stimulus they afford, will lead to a closer identification of the art instruction of the city's higher schools and the work of the academy itself.

Monthly Review of Work

Students are expected to submit at monthly intervals the work done in all classes during that month. The studies thus collected will be classified and put up for exhibition in the class-rooms. There will be at the same time a general review of the work of each class by the respective instructor. A record of the work so exhibited will be kept for use in determining the standing of students at the end of the season, and for awarding prizes or scholarships. Studies cannot be recorded or accepted for exhibition unless presented at the Curator's desk within the following time limits:

APPLICATION FOR ADMISSION TO THE ACADEMY

Applicants for admission to the Schools in October must send work and filled-in application forms to the Curator of the Schools before September 15th. All work submitted will be classified by the Faculty.

Applications for admission during the School year may be sent in at any time, but no student will be permitted to begin work in the schools until action has been taken by the Faculty.

Students may apply for promotion at the regular Faculty meetings, but before making application for transfer from one class to another, written approval must be obtained from the instructor in whose class they are working.

No student is eligible for admission unless possessed of a good common school education: such for instance as is reached by the highest grade of the grammar schools. We recommend and prefer that our students shall have no less than high school or normal school attainments.

It is an imperative rule that all work submitted for any purpose must be signed, otherwise it will not be considered.

To avoid loss, studies must be reclaimed promptly after they have been acted upon.

All new students will be required to pay the Academy's matriculation fee of $5.

A student's ticket entitles the holder during attendance at the Academy to the use of the Galleries, Special Exhibitions, the Library, the Print Collection, and Lectures.

Former students are admitted to special exhibitions without charge, upon presentation of the student's ticket.

Payments must be made, in advance, to the Curator.

NO ALLOWANCE WILL BE MADE ON ACCOUNT OF ABSENCE.

Assistance in securing board or rooms will be given upon request. The cost of living in Philadelphia is not high, and suitable accommodations within reasonable distance of the Academy are readily obtainable, for both men and women.

Aurelius Renzetti

SCULPTURE, 1918

As a temporary home for the Art Student Philadelphia has unique advantages. Known as the "City of Homes" it affords good living at a lower cost than is possible in any other large city in the East.

In historical interest it is rich, and its suburbs easy of access offer unusual change for out-of-door work. Opportunities for general culture are varied and the Academy is fortunately able to secure special rates for its students to many of the lectures and concerts given each season.

The Academy itself is centrally located and within short walking distance from it are good boarding-places. The two principal railroad stations are each within five minutes' walk.

Recognizing that a comfortable living place is an aid to serious study the management invites correspondence with students from a distance and offers freely its information and aid.

"The one thing that makes the true artist is a clear perception and a firm, bold hand in distinction from that imperfect mental vision and uncertain touch which give us the feeble pictures and the lumpy statues of the mere artisans on canvas or in stone."—Holmes.
